Big 4 Rubber Firms Face Strike Peril

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — Contracts between the United Rubber Workers union and the Big Four companies expire at midnight tonight.

Although strike action has been authorized by locals throughout the country, a union spokesman said Wednesday that a strike decision won't be made until the contract expiration hour arrives.

More than 71,000 workers are covered by contracts with B.F. Goodrich Co., Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co., Firestone Tire & Rubber Co., and Uniroyal, Inc., formerly U.S. Rubber Co.

Negotiations on new contracts have been going on for a month in Cincinnati, Cleveland and Columbus. As in past negotiations, neither side has issued any reports on the bargaining.

Bargaining goals announced by the URW in February following a meeting of the policy committee in Cleveland included:

--"A substantial wage increase for 1967" with a wage reopener for 1968 . . .

-- "Upward adjustments in skilled trades rates . . .

--"Elimination of unwarranted wage differentials whether based on geographical location or type of product . . ."

--Two additional holidays and improved vacation, overtime and sick-plan pay.

--A full employment earnings program designed to provide 92.5 per cent of weekly straight time pay--including state unemployment compensation, plus supplemental unemployment benefits--for laid-off workers.

Agreements on pensions and insurance do not figure in the current negotiations, these three-year pacts expire Sept. 15.

Negotiations with B. F. Goodrich, covering 10,930 workers, opened in Columbus March 15 and talks with other members of the Big Four began March 21 with this lineup:

At Cincinnati--Uniroyal, 21,670 employes, and Goodyear, 21,250 employes.

At Cleveland--Firestone, 17,585 employes, and Goodyear, 21,250 employes.

At Cleveland--Firestone, 17,585 employes.

The four companies and General Tire & Rubber Co. made an agreement, effective April 1, pledging mutual aid to any one of the five that might be struck by the URW. A Goodyear spokesman said the agreement would not interfere with each company's autonomy in bargaining on its individual contract.

The URW contract with General Tire, which covers 3,052 union members, expires May 15. Bargaining on a new pack began Monday in Cleveland.

Two Steel Firms Make Stock Deal

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Pittsburgh Steel Co. announced today the purchase of a big block of stock in Wheeling Steel Corp. and the election of its president as Wheeling board chairman.

The announcement cleared up mystery surrounding a day-long meeting Wednesday of top executives of both firms. It had been rumored that a merger was in the works.

Pittsburgh Steel, the nation's 14th ranked steel producer, said it had bought for cash 77,353 shares of Wheeling Steel stock at $21.50 net per share.

The stock was purchased from Hunt Foods and Industries, Inc. of Fullerton, Calif., which also sold its remaining 77,353 shares in Wheeling Steel to the C. F. Kettering Family of Dayton, Ohio.

Allison R. Maxwell Jr., president and chief executive officer of Pittsburgh Steel since 1956, was elected Wednesday to head Wheeling Steel, 10th ranked steel producer in the country.

Donald C. Duvall, Pittsburgh Steel executive vice president, was named president of Wheeling Steel.

Western World Leaders To Attend Adenauer Rites

BONN, Germany (AP) — West Germany's capital beside the Rhine becomes the temporary capital of the Western world next week when President Johnson and other government leaders assemble for the funeral of Konrad Adenauer.

French President Charles de Gaulle, Britain's Prime Minister Harold Wilson and other top men of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization will also attend the state services Tuesday in Cologne's Roman Catholic Cathedral for the 91-year-old exchancellor who rebuilt West Germany from the depths of wartime defeat.

It willbe the largest gathering of Eastern government heads since the funeral for President John F. Kennedy in November 1963.

The White House announcement that Johnson would fly to Germany for the funeral made no mention of the President extending his trip to other European areas. The general feeling in Washington was that this was unlikely.

It will be Johnson's first visit to Europe since he became President, and there was speculation in Bonn that the gathering of Western leaders would give the U.S. President the opportunity for talks with West German Chancellor Kurt Georg Kiesinger and De Gaulle on major issues between their governments and Washington.

But the belief in Washington was that a state funeral was not a suitable occasion for such discussions and that Johnson's contacts with the foreign leaders would be of a more casual nature, such as those he had in Washington with the statesmen who attended Kennedy's funeral.

Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower, who worked closely with Adenauer as the North Atlantic alliance's military commander in Europe and as president, will not attend the funeral. His secretary said doctor's orders prevented the 76-year-old former president from making the trip.

After the state funeral, Adenauer will be buried at a private family service in the Rhoendorf village cemetery in the Rhine River Hills not far from his home where he died in his sleep Wednesday.

In the wooded plot are the graves of his parents, an uncle, his two wives and a son who died when he was five days old. Adorning the simple graves are blue and yellow pansies and red, white and yellow primroses.

Adenauer had planted roses, his favorite flower, but they did not flourish under the trees.

Solemnities begin Saturday morning when West German Border Guardsmen bring Adenauer's body from his home to the big Cabinet meeting room at the Palais Schaumburg in Bonn. It was a trip he made daily for 14 years as chancellor.

The body will lie in state Saturday and Sunday. On Monday it will be taken another 20 miles along the river to Cologne where he was born and was mayor for 16 years, until the Nazis ousted him from office. There it will lie in the Cologne cathedral.

U.S. Planes Make Closest Attack Of War On Haiphong

128 Killed In Crash Of Swiss Plane

Chartered Airliner Crashed In Cyprus During Rain Storm

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP) — Rescuers collected 126 burned, broken bodies today on the slopes of a hillock where a chartered Swiss airliner crashed during a thunderstorm. The airline said two of four survivors died in a hospital, bringing the total dead to 128.

In one of the worst crashes in aviation history, the four-engine turboprop Bristol Britannia airliner crashed near Nicosia during the night as it attempted to land. There were reports the plane had been hit by lightning.

Most of the dead were German and Swiss tourists returning from a trip to the Far East. The plane's crew included four Britons, all killed.

"This is the most terrible sight I've ever seen," said one of the first persons on the scene. "There are bodies all over the place, some of them in pieces."

The survivors were in the plane's tail section, the only part which remained somewhat intact.

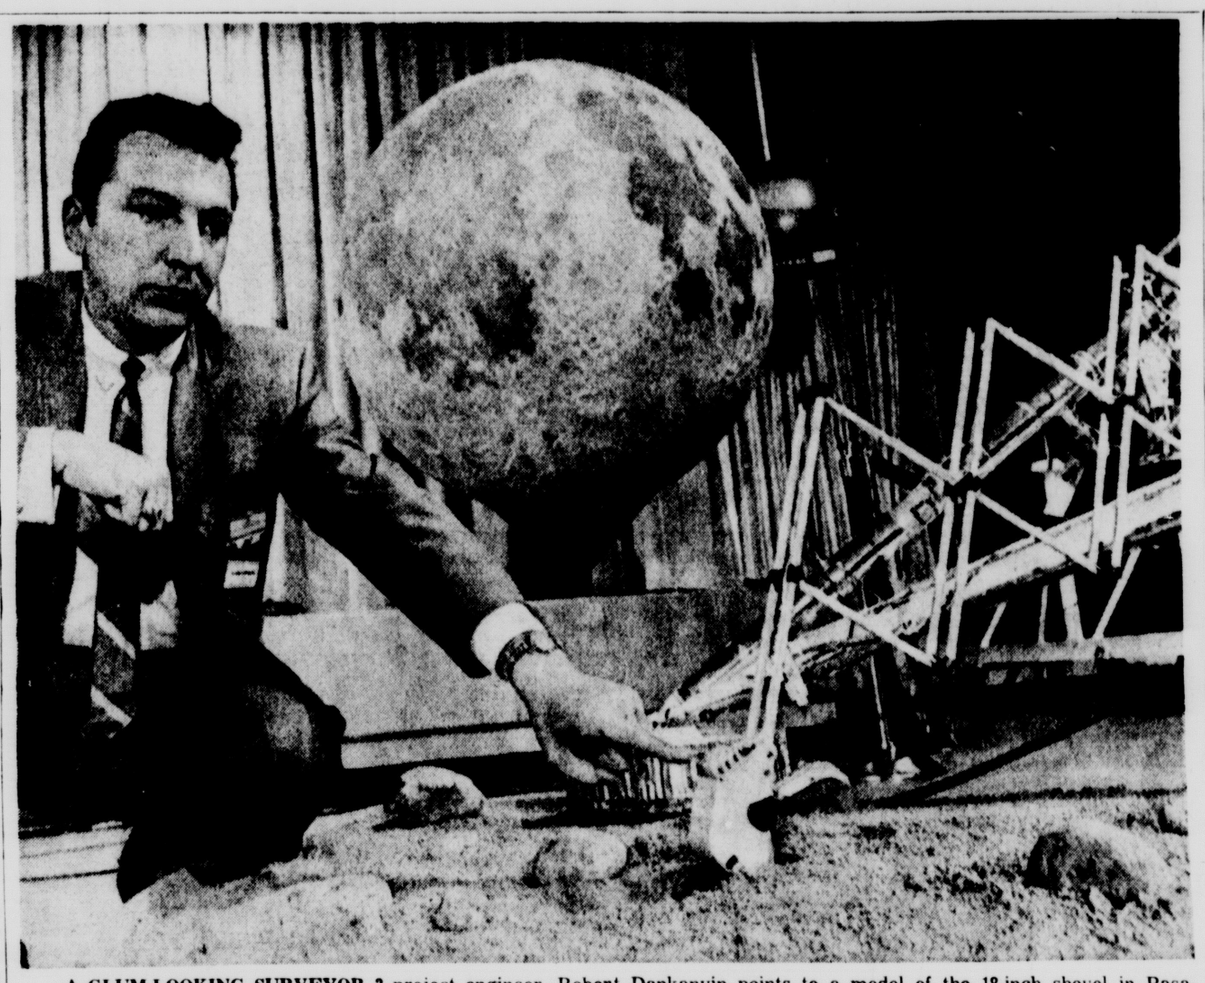

"We kept looking but all we could find apart from those lucky few in the tail were dead people," the rescuer said.

Greek and Cypriot policemen and soldiers, British airmen and U.N. Peace Force members worked in a downpour under spotlights beamed down by hovering U.N. helicopters.

The plane was flying from Bombay, India, to Cairo, Egypt but was diverted to Nicosia because of bad weather.

The owner, Globeair of Switzerland, said it heard from the air control tower in Nicosia that the plane was struck by lightning and burst into flames.

Evidence at the scene indicated the plane hit a bump in the ground, then bounced a few hundred yards into the slope of a hillock less than 100 feet high.

A GLUM-LOOKING SURVEYOR 3 project engineer, Robert Dankanyin points to a model of the 18-inch shovel in Pasadena, Calif., identical to the one on Surveyor 3 which landed successfully on the moon Wednesday. An engine malfunction, however, threatened the entire mission. If the problem is corrected the power shovel will dig up a simple sample of lunar surface and give scientists valuable information about its composition. (UPI Telephoto)

Targets Hit 1, 2 Miles From Port

Raids On Doorstep Of City Attest To War's Rising Fury

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. Navy planes struck closer to Haiphong today than ever before in the Vietnam war, attacking two thermal power plants just over a mile from North Vietnam's major port and second city.

A U.S. spokesman said two power plants were hit by warplanes from the U.S. 7th Fleet carrier Kitty Hawk just before noon. One plant was located 1.1 mile from Haiphong, the other 2.1 miles from the port city.

The raids on Haiphong's doorstep attested to the mounting fury of the air war in the North as the monsoon rains subside.

Wednesday American pilots flew through the heaviest defenses ever thrown up by the Communists to attack an army camp southeast of Hanoi. In 17 aerial dogfights over North Vietnam's heartland, the U.S. pilots downed one Communist MIG and probably got four more, the U.S. command said.

The closest previous raids to Haiphong were last June 29, when U.S. planes bombed an oil depot two miles from the city. The same day they hit an oil depot three miles from Hanoi.

The raids today on Haiphong's outskirts must have had approval from Washington and possibly from President Johnson himself. All raids within a 10-mile radius of the port city have to be cleared by Washington.

The Navy had been waiting for more than a week for clear weather to make the raids.

The initial announcement did not give any assessment of damage or say whether any U.S. planes were lost.

Hanoi claimed two American planes were shot down during the air battle Wednesday and said one pilot was captured. The U.S. command made no announcement of any American losses, but such announcements are usually delayed if a search is on for missing pilots.

Red ground gunners filled the skies with Soviet-built missiles and radar-directed antiaircraft fire which the U.S. command said was the heaviest American airmen have encountered in Vietnam.

The air battle was the fiercest since Jan. 2, when seven MIGs were downed over the Red River Valley in the war's deadliest sky battle.

Air Force authorities said the Reds evidently sent up practically every operational jet interceptor. The North Vietnamese air force is estimated to have only about 120 planes, with about 25 per cent of these ready for combat at any one time. That would indicate the Reds had 30 or more jets in the air Wednesday.

The United States has announced the loss of 10 of its planes in air clashes with the MIGs.

Surveyor 3's First Moon Photos Hint It May Be In Lunar Crater

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — Surveyor 3's first glare-blurred pictures hint it may be resting in a lunar crater after a gentle touchdown in an area astronauts someday may explore.

While the three-legged craft kept its moon-scratching claw retracted, spacecraft controllers at Jet Propulsion Laboratory said photographs radioed during 10 hours after the landing Wednesday showed less detail than those from Surveyor 1 last June. But they theorized this was due to sunlight reflected into the camera.

A spokesman said the horizon around the vehicle was about five degrees higher than it would be if Surveyor 3 had landed on a flat plain.

Diameter of the crater and the height of its rim were not known.

First operation of a scoop designed to extend from the spacecraft and dig in the lunar soil was scheduled for late tonight or early Friday. The shovel, on the end of a five-foot arm, can dig as deep as 18 inches, pick up small rocks, or hammer hard enough to break a brick.

The amount of power needed to move the shovel through the soil is expected to indicate if the surface is strong enough to support manned landing craft. Pictures taken after each of its jerky movements should show whether the soil is sandy or gravelly.

Clearest of the photographs taken in the first three attempts showed irregular wrinkles — apparently part of a crater wall — between the 620-pound craft and the horizon.

Readings from strain gauges on the vehicle's spindly legs indicated, however, that it came to rest gently and did not tilt.

The main problem seemed to be glare from the sun, coming in at a sunrise slant from the east and reflecting from the spacecraft's surfaces into a mirror that enables the upward-pointing camera to photograph the soil beneath it.

Surveyor 3's 65-hour flight across a quarter-million miles ended at 7:04 p.m., EST, Wednesday after a braking rocket slowed its 6,000-mile-per hour descent. The 10-foot-tall vehicle settled on the surface with a 10- to 12-m.p.h. impact and started its camera about an hour later.

The first pictures were made up of 200 scan lines. There are nearly 600 on home television screens.

Later, 600-line pictures were televised but glare continued to wipe out much detail.

The 200-line pictures were transmitted with power supplied by a battery aboard the craft. The 600-line pictures came when a higher-power antenna with additional current provided by the craft's solar panels came into play. The solar panels convert sunlight into electricity.

UAW Faction Demanding 30% Boost

DETROIT (AP) — At least one United Auto Workers faction is demanding a wage and fringe benefits gain of 30 per cent over the next three years as part of the union's 1967 contract goals.

The 30 per cent "package" was proposed in leaflets handed 3,000 union delegates meeting today. The leaflets outlined a four-point program and bore the names of 10 local union presidents and at least one member each from eight other locals.

There was little doubt that delegates would shunt aside the four-point program as such, in favor of a broader more flexible approach proposed by UAW President Walter P. Reuther who says any new contract must carry a guaranteed annual income.

The four-point program proposes optional retirement at full pension after 30 years service, regardless of age; company-paid group auto insurance; a 35- or 37½-hour work week, with whatever money is left from 30 per cent going into wage increases.

Robert Weissman, president of a 3,600-member local at Twinsburg, Ohio, calculated the four-point program which he supports should provide a wage increase of at least 5 per cent a year, after the other three demands are met.

The UAW's year-old independent parts and supplier council, representing workers in supplier plants, appealed to negotiators to pay special attention to job security.

Proponents Of Powell See Uphill Fight

WASHINGTON (AP) — Proponents of seating Adam Clayton Powell admit they'll face an uphill fight if the controversial Harlem Democrat comes to claim the seat to which he was overwhelmingly re-elected last week.

Although any new showdown in the 3-month-old wrangle will not come before next week at the earliest, 11 liberal Democrats made public Wednesday a behind-the-scenes drive to seat Powell.

But their appeal to fellow House members "to resolve this matter in accord with the spirit and the letter of the Constitution" was coupled with an admission that few votes have switched since the House voted March 1 to exclude the flamboyant preacher-politician.

"It appears that a majority of the House is prepared to exclude once again," they said.

Headcounts made by a number of House leaders, in order to detect changes since March 1, have revealed that most members would vote now as they voted then. This would mean Powell again would be excluded, and another new election would have to be held for his New York 18th District seat.

Sen. Long Seeks Revisions

LBJ 'Purge' Spurs Effort To Repeal Financing Law

WASHINGTON (AP) — The shadow of suspicion that President Johnson might be tempted to try to purge some of his congressional critics in 1968 apparently is bolstering efforts to repeal the presidential election campaign financing law.

Sen. Russell B. Long, D-La., trying to reverse the Senate's 48-42 vote for repeal a week ago, has come up with revisions of the act which permits citizens to check off $1 of their income taxes to be divided between the major parties.

The repealer was added to a tax bill which has been before the Senate nearly three weeks and must go back to the House — which hasn't voted on the campaign finance issue — before it can become law.

One of Long's new proposals would turn over control of the $30 million that could be raised for each party to the presidential nominee or to his agent instead of to the party organization.

Since Johnson can have the 1968 Democratic nomination for the asking, some opponents say privately the President would have the promise of funds, available after Sept. 1, 1968, with which to influence the earlier nomination of senatorial candidates.

Some critics of Johnson's Vietnam policies fear the President might try, as Franklin D. Roosevelt did in 1938, to purge dissenters in party primaries.

Roosevelt didn't have much luck. But he didn't have the prospect of a $30-million campaign fund to help him oust his critics.

Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y., who managed his brother's presidential campaign in 1960, already has outlined to the Senate — without specifically mentioning the possibility of a presidential purge — how it could be done.

Kennedy told his colleagues that by promising to name a favored senatorial candidate as director of presidential campaign expenditures of up to $5 million in his state, a prospective presidential nominee could "completely undermine the local organization" and dictate the nomination of the candidate.

Hearings End In Senate On Death Penalty

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Proposals to end the death penalty in Ohio are marking time in the legislature with the lawmakers indicating they aren't anxious to take on the controversial issue.

The Senate Judiciary Committee conducted a second and apparently final hearing Wednesday on a proposed constitutional resolution which would put the question before voters in the November election.

But the resolution was put aside and no further action scheduled by Chairman Max H. Dennis R-10 Clinton who referred to a bill pending in the House which would accomplish the same thing.

"We probably will hold up on the resolution to see what position the House might take on the bill," Dennis said. The bill, by Rep. Robert G. Jones R-62 Columbus, Franklin, still is in the House Reference Committee awaiting assignment to the Judicial Committee of that chamber.

Sen. Oliver Ocasek D-27 Northfield, Summit, is author of the constitutional resolution and maintains the issue should be resolved by the voters and not the legislature.

Major Soviet Space Launching Expected

MOSCOW (AP) — Unconfirmed reports circulating here say a major new Soviet space launching is imminent.

Usually reliable sources say Soviet officials have been warned to expect "a spectacular and significant" space venture this weekend or early next week.

There was conflicting speculation here on whether the launch would be manned or unmanned, but agreement that it was supposed to be new and important. Soviet space plans never are officially announced in advance.

It has been more than two years since the Soviets last sent up a manned space flight, on March 18, 1965, when Alexei A. Leonov took the first walk in space.

The UAW's year-old independent parts and supplier council, representing workers in supplier plants, appealed to negotiators to pay special attention to job security.

Proponents Of Powell See Uphill Fight

WASHINGTON (AP) — Proponents of seating Adam Clayton Powell admit they'll face an uphill fight if the controversial Harlem Democrat comes to claim the seat to which he was overwhelmingly re-elected last week.

Although any new showdown in the 3-month-old wrangle will not come before next week at the earliest, 11 liberal Democrats made public Wednesday a behind-the-scenes drive to seat Powell.

But their appeal to fellow House members "to resolve this matter in accord with the spirit and the letter of the Constitution" was coupled with an admission that few votes have switched since the House voted March 1 to exclude the flamboyant preacher-politician.

"It appears that a majority of the House is prepared to exclude once again," they said.

Headcounts made by a number of House leaders, in order to detect changes since March 1, have revealed that most members would vote now as they voted then. This would mean Powell again would be excluded, and another new election would have to be held for his New York 18th District seat.

Sen. Long Seeks Revisions

LBJ 'Purge' Spurs Effort To Repeal Financing Law

WASHINGTON (AP) — The shadow of suspicion that President Johnson might be tempted to try to purge some of his congressional critics in 1968 apparently is bolstering efforts to repeal the presidential election campaign financing law.

Sen. Russell B. Long, D-La., trying to reverse the Senate's 48-42 vote for repeal a week ago, has come up with revisions of the act which permits citizens to check off $1 of their income taxes to be divided between the major parties.

The repealer was added to a tax bill which has been before the Senate nearly three weeks and must go back to the House — which hasn't voted on the campaign finance issue — before it can become law.

One of Long's new proposals would turn over control of the $30 million that could be raised for each party to the presidential nominee or to his agent instead of to the party organization.

Since Johnson can have the 1968 Democratic nomination for the asking, some opponents say privately the President would have the promise of funds, available after Sept. 1, 1968, with which to influence the earlier nomination of senatorial candidates.

Some critics of Johnson's Vietnam policies fear the President might try, as Franklin D. Roosevelt did in 1938, to purge dissenters in party primaries.

Roosevelt didn't have much luck. But he didn't have the prospect of a $30-million campaign fund to help him oust his critics.

Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y., who managed his brother's presidential campaign in 1960, already has outlined to the Senate — without specifically mentioning the possibility of a presidential purge — how it could be done.

Kennedy told his colleagues that by promising to name a favored senatorial candidate as director of presidential campaign expenditures of up to $5 million in his state, a prospective presidential nominee could "completely undermine the local organization" and dictate the nomination of the candidate.

Hearings End In Senate On Death Penalty

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Proposals to end the death penalty in Ohio are marking time in the legislature with the lawmakers indicating they aren't anxious to take on the controversial issue.

The Senate Judiciary Committee conducted a second and apparently final hearing Wednesday on a proposed constitutional resolution which would put the question before voters in the November election.

But the resolution was put aside and no further action scheduled by Chairman Max H. Dennis R-10 Clinton who referred to a bill pending in the House which would accomplish the same thing.

"We probably will hold up on the resolution to see what position the House might take on the bill," Dennis said. The bill, by Rep. Robert G. Jones R-62 Columbus, Franklin, still is in the House Reference Committee awaiting assignment to the Judicial Committee of that chamber.

Sen. Oliver Ocasek D-27 Northfield, Summit, is author of the constitutional resolution and maintains the issue should be resolved by the voters and not the legislature.

Major Soviet Space Launching Expected

MOSCOW (AP) — Unconfirmed reports circulating here say a major new Soviet space launching is imminent.

Usually reliable sources say Soviet officials have been warned to expect "a spectacular and significant" space venture this weekend or early next week.

There was conflicting speculation here on whether the launch would be manned or unmanned, but agreement that it was supposed to be new and important. Soviet space plans never are officially announced in advance.

It has been more than two years since the Soviets last sent up a manned space flight, on March 18, 1965, when Alexei A. Leonov took the first walk in space.

Swelling Ranks Of Uninformed

In a world of instant and in-depth communication, there is a general feeling that almost every American is informed about world affairs to some degree.

Not so says Dr. John P. Robinson of the University of Michigan Survey Research Center.

According to information from a series of surveys since 1957, Dr. Robinson concludes a third of the United States population is uninformed about world affairs.

The one-third he describes is that portion with less than a high school education and an annual income under $7,500.

In addition to rarely coming into contact with printed material, the surveys presented good evidence poorer people with little education tend to switch radio or television stations when an information program turns up.

The United States has a stake in economical and political happenings and trends around the world. These are not just idle events in faraway places with strange sounding names.

Events in other nations dictate U.S. foreign policy. Foreign policy affects our domestic policy which affects the daily life of every American.

For a citizen to make an honest appraisal of government activities, he must have some understanding of circumstances leading to policy decisions. To gain this insight, he must be informed.

Being informed is the responsibility of every American citizen. Realization of this is the first step toward becoming informed.

Report From The General

The latest statement from Gen. William C. Westmoreland on the status of the Vietnam war has to be fresh food for thought for American policymakers.

The competent military commander says Communists are being killed off at a high rate but overall strength has not been impaired.

Even the loss of 1,000 defectors a week is not hurting Viet Cong operations.

Gen. Westmoreland welcomes the bombing raids in the North; but it is evident to him troops are still pouring south to replace the dead and the deserters.

The Pentagon has pledged more troops for Vietnam this year — 62,000 more. This will put U.S. troop strength at 500,000 but top military men already are saying this will not be enough.

Gen. Westmoreland says he is going to continue present strategy of trying to bleed Hanoi to the point where somebody will yell "Uncle."

To do this, the U.S. must keep troops and supplies flowing into Vietnam at an ever-increasing pace.

What happens if Communist Chinese, dressed in North Vietnam uniforms, begin infiltrating into the south? Would the United States run out of blood first?

Gen. Westmoreland has started preparing the American public for news that might come any day that a large force of U.S. soldiers has been massacred by the Reds.

He says it can happen any time because Communists are capable of launching regimental attacks with regularity.

It would appear from the general's report that present strategy is failing. The United States has been forced to escalate without being able to stem the tide of Red troops, make the area around Saigon safe, or reach a status quo level in the war.

Policymakers still are faced with the tricky task of finding a path between two extremes — a pullout or a victory.

Konrad Adenauer

Konrad Adenauer was a strong chancellor when West Germany needed a strong leader.

He was 73 in 1949 when, as founder and leader of the Christian Democratic party, he was made chancellor of the new-born Federal Republic of Germany.

His credentials were readily acceptable to the Allied occupying powers.

Mayor of Cologne before the war, he had been deposed by the Nazis, barred from politics and eventually imprisoned.

The postwar era was trying for Germany. Resistance to the iron-fisted grip Adenauer used to prod the country forward was whipped up by his splintered political opponents.

There was some discontent with his staunch anti-Communism, his close ties to the United States and his faith in his own indestructibility.

His strength seemed to flow to a country that grew and prospered. The blueprint for recovery was the work of Adenauer's economics minister, Ludwig Erhard, who succeeded to the chancellorship when Adenauer retired in 1963.

The death of "Der Alte" — the Old Man — has stilled a heart that pumped new life into a weary, discouraged country; but Adenauer lived long enough to see his country put the past behind it, earn a new spot among world leaders and become confident in the future.

Purely Personal

I think "credibility gap," "Generation gap" and so on are symptoms of mistrust spreading into personal and international relations, professional relations, even into once unassailable matters of religion.

As an avid reader of sports page information about baseball, a game I think is a drag, I have this impression about a manager's job. It is a high-paid chance for a man to make a fool of himself by over-exposure to his superiors.

I wonder about states that can produce Lester Maddoxes and reruns of monkey trials. I am afraid, to paraphrase the line of a song, that "it's true what they say about the South."

A friend thinks the main point of proposed gun laws should be the ease with which angry and disgruntled people now can buy guns. He admits criminals always will get them but would like to keep them from being easily purchasable by the Oswalds, peeved householders, quarreling lovers etc.

Another reason knowing Americans better is not to make them more lovable has come out of Thailand, where U.S. servicemen are pitching woo to local ladies in ways not tolerable under local rules of decent conduct.

The staid New York Times showed lively interest in an "instant rehabilitation" project — making over the shabby interior of an otherwise sound tenement structure, instead of knocking down the building, shoving out the tenants and taking a year or more to build a new structure at great expense.

I will challenge on sight the dependability of any poll that purports to tell the people of the United States they are overwhelmingly in favor of the war in Vietnam.

I am not the only user of stainless steel razor blades bothered by wide discrepancies in their quality — even blades of the same make in the same package.

EDITOR OF THE REVIEW:

There have been complaints of young children making disturbances in churches, hindering congregations from "getting the message."

Many persons complain they themselves can get little from the sermons because of children who are sent instead of brought to church.

Although I could be wrong, there may be more of a message from these children if a congregation is too blind to hear any other way. A congregation which wants to sit comfortably, seeing only its own needs, has missed the point of Christianity completely.

The fields are white for harvest and the laborers are few. I always thought if we could just get people to come to the church half the victory was won.

But God has delivered these souls right into your hands and you don't know what to do with them.

What a blessing — what a challenge — what an opportunity?

Surely we're in need of revival if God delivers our missions right into our very hands and we fail to know what and how to feed and lead them.

Good News Tonight!

By Art Buchwald

WASHINGTON

Both President Johnson and Vice President Hubert Humphrey have been bitterly complaining lately over the lack of good news being reported by American newspapermen. They both have contended that the American image is being hurt abroad because all people have been reading lately is the bad news about the United States.

Art Buchwald

They certainly have a point, and every responsible newspaper is now hiring a "good news" editor, who is responsible for getting as much good news in the paper as possible. So far they've had a hard time ferreting out many good news stories, but it isn't for lack of trying. Here are some of the kinds of stories they're looking for.

HOUSTON, Tex. — Pvt. Muhammad Ali, otherwise known as Cassius Clay, was awarded the good conduct medal today after being in the U.S. Army for only two weeks. Pvt. Muhammad said, "All I want to be is a good soldier and make Pfc." Asked if he missed fighting for the world heavyweight championship, Pvt. Muhammad said, "I'd rather fight the Viet Cong any day."

MONTGOMERY, Ala. — Gov. Lurleen Wallace cut the 300th ribbon today to open another integrated school in Alabama. The governor said: "I won't rest until every school in Alabama is completely free of discrimination, but I don't think I could have done it without the support of my husband George and the good people of the state of Alabama."

DETROIT, Mich. — Ralph Nader announced today that every new model car coming off the assembly line this year was completely safe and accident-proof. He told the American Society of Automobile Manufacturers that he was proud of the way they had accepted all his safety suggestions. He particularly cited the good faith of General Motors for its cooperation during the past year. The manufacturers presented Nader with their "Man of the Year Award" in gratitude for his pointing out their shortcomings to the American consumer.

WASHINGTON, D. C. — The National Rifle Association called for strong legislation this week to prevent guns from getting into the hands of an unsuspecting public. A spokesman for the organization said: "Guns in themselves are dangerous and should only be handled by the few discerning people who are experienced with them. The hackneyed argument for the ownership of guns goes back to the Constitution, but it is a faulty one, and if we can't stop people from buying guns, then the Constitution should be changed."

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. — Secretary of State Dean Rusk told the Harvard graduating class this morning that the United States had made many mistakes in the handling of the Vietnam war and that he could see why Hanoi didn't want to go to the conference table at this time. He said he thought the anti-war demonstrators as well as the speeches by Sen. Fulbright and Sen. Kennedy were very helpful in bringing about a peaceful settlement to the conflict and he only wished more people would speak out against the war. The Harvard students threw flowers in front of the secretary's limousine as he left the campus.

LANGLEY, Va. — The CIA announced today that it was giving up its role as an espionage organization and would devote its efforts in the future to medical research. In explaining the agency's decision, Richard Helms told newspapermen, "Spying is a dirty business and the CIA wants no part of it."

WASHINGTON, D. C. — President Johnson called a press conference today and attacked the press for printing only the good news coming out of Washington. He pointed out that because there was no bad news being reported, the public was interpreting his good news as bad news.

Merriman Smith said, "Thank you, Mr. President."

Konrad Adenauer

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON

Konrad Adenauer was a combination cement-mixer, architect and teacher for the new West Germany. Even at the age of 87 he didn't want to retire. But he was forced to.

He was too iron-willed, some would say too bull-headed, to be universally loved. It wasn't that his country didn't appreciate what he had done. It just thought it was time he left.

The same thing had happened to one of his great contemporaries, Sir Winston Churchill, some years before in Britain. But at that time Churchill was physically deteriorating. Adenauer didn't seem to be. He had just outlived his time.

The West Germany he took over in 1949 as chancellor, at age 73, was still pretty much a rubble from the war. He held the job 14 years and in that time guided his country into a miracle of prosperity and a new way of life.

He had to lay the foundations for the new West Germany and build it by design into a new European power. He allied it with the West, making it one of the pillars of the Allies.

BUT PERHAPS his greatest contribution was in steering the West German people in a democratic direction after their long history of authoritarianism. If West Germany stays on that road, he will be one of the great figures of its history.

If not, he will simply have been a stopgap leader who happened to appear during an interval between dictatorships.

So, if the obituaries about him seem a little guarded, there is good reason. Since the future of West Germany is uncertain, it is too soon to say whether what Adenauer did was all for nothing or was a glittering achievement.

He preached democracy, but at times seemed so authoritarian himself in his impatience with opposition that, while he may have been revered and trusted, he was not particularly popular.

West Germany probably needed an iron-willed man at the time Adenauer took over. Then it was surrounded and suspected by its wartime enemies. It might have melted into chaos under a weaker man.

Yet, there were odd twists in his career which almost made his ascendancy look accidental.

He had been mayor of Cologne from 1917 until 1933, when Hitler threw him out for ordering Nazi posters torn down. He was in eclipse during the war. After it he became mayor again. Then the British threw him out.

This enabled him to devote all his energies to becoming chancellor. After the war he had helped create the Christian Democratic Union and became its leader. It was a kind of mass party, drawing support from all classes.

When his CDU won a narrow plurality in the 1949 election he formed a center-right coalition in the first Bonn Parliament. Then came the big test of his big ambition and he didn't win by much.

HIS ELECTION as chancellor of the new government in 1949 was by one vote in the 402-seat Parliament.

Five days after his election he laid down a view and a policy which he followed for the rest of his time in office.

He said there could be no peace in Europe until Germany was reunited (a hope that hasn't been realized yet although he persisted in it), that there must be an end to French-German hostility, that West Germany "belongs to Western Europe," and he linked West Germany's fate with that of the United States.

For several years before he stepped down in 1963, against his will, there had been growing dissension about his leadership within his party. Finally, his party dictated his departure.

He lived four years after that and was 91 when he died Wednesday.

Strike Crises Cause Concern

WASHINGTON — So tough, so relentless, so endless are the strike crises, that President Johnson now is set to clobber some of his labor allies — even if this means a wide open political break with his perpetually-motioned friends.

Victor Riesel

On a clear day he sees himself besieged forever — right through the Nov. 5th, 1968 presidential election. Literally!

Though his teams of mediators and advisers are working on the railroads, this is but one skirmish on the labor front.

From now on the White House enclave faces walkouts in such strategic industries as rubber production for fighters and bombers; shipyards making vital nuclear firing destrovers and their escorts; copper and brass, without which there could be no shells, big or small, for shooting or shelling; chemicals, meaning napalm; autos which could mean tanks, planes, spacecraft and good old fashioned trucks; and eventually, most of the nation's docks and steel mills.

And then he will have some truly big headaches. These come from the crises the public rarely gets to understand, even if they are devotees of Huntley and Brinkley. They crop up about twice a week.

FOR EXAMPLE, just before Mr. Johnson flew to Punta Del Este, some of his intimate aides were talking just as much about something called "Avco" as about the great train crisis.

Only the insiders knew that this referred to the strike threat at the Avco plant in Stratford, Conn. The Pentagon truly was screaming it could not afford a single day's stoppage if there was to be action in Vietnam — because the plant makes not only helicopter jet engines but spare parts as well.

At about the same moment labor's "cold war" heated up at another critical — but unknown — plant in Modesto, Calif. Again the Defense Dept. cried out that it must have continued production in the new installation — it will be making desperately needed shells for rural free delivery in North Vietnam.

There are now hundreds of these invisible conflicts. And in today's complex production of new electronic weaponry, a stoppage in some tiny out-of-the-way plant can cripple supplies needed for the most massive aerial, land and sea attack equipment.

During all this time, Congressional probers keep lobbing over charges of shortages of munitions on the fighting front. And they want a law. But what law? Who can devise a statute to contend effectively with the concealed crises as well as the big ones such as the coming brass and copper crisis.

Contracts in this non-ferrous industry — without which we would have to throw rocks at the Viet Cong — expire late in June. The industry then will be faced with the most solid labor front in recent history.

FIRST, the big steel union of the most astute, laconic and publicity-shying I. W. "Abe" Abel will merge officially with the tough little (old I.W.W.) Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers, men of the last frontier. They'll begin negotiations with such firms as Anaconda, Kennecott, Phelps-Dodge etc.

Then will come the coordinated bargaining technique George Meany and Walter Reuther used against the General Electric Co. — which whipped up such tension that the President had to call in Secretaries McNamara, Wirtz and Connor (then of Commerce) as mediators.

To face the copper and brass corporations, "Abe" Abel will gather around him the coal miners of old John Lewis; Reuther's auto workers; Charles Luna's Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen; Howard Coghlin's office employes; Roy Siemiller's machinists; the operating engineers and the teamsters just to name a few.

Then they'll bargain for mighty big stakes. And they'll try to deliver to a heated up rank and file which wants war-time cash in this tight labor market.

So Lyndon Johnson will ask his friends to lay off or he'll lay it on. Since the rank and file is out of control, no one can guarantee anything. So there will have to be a law.

Konrad Adenauer was a combination cement-mixer, architect and teacher for the new West Germany. Even at the age of 87 he didn't want to retire. But he was forced to.

He was too iron-willed, some would say too bull-headed, to be universally loved. It wasn't that his country didn't appreciate what he had done. It just thought it was time he left.

The same thing had happened to one of his great contemporaries, Sir Winston Churchill, some years before in Britain. But at that time Churchill was physically deteriorating. Adenauer didn't seem to be. He had just outlived his time.

The West Germany he took over in 1949 as chancellor, at age 73, was still pretty much a rubble from the war. He held the job 14 years and in that time guided his country into a miracle of prosperity and a new way of life.

He had to lay the foundations for the new West Germany and build it by design into a new European power. He allied it with the West, making it one of the pillars of the Allies.

BUT PERHAPS his greatest contribution was in steering the West German people in a democratic direction after their long history of authoritarianism. If West Germany stays on that road he will be one of the great figures of its history.

If not, he will simply have been a stopgap leader who happened to appear during an interval between dictatorships.

So if the obituaries about him seem a little guarded, there is good reason. Since the future of West Germany is uncertain, it is too soon to say whether what Adenauer did was all for nothing or was a glittering achievement.

He preached democracy, but at times seemed so authoritarian himself in his impatience with opposition that, while he may have been revered and trusted, he was not particularly popular.

West Germany probably needed an iron-willed man at the time Adenauer took over. Then it was surrounded and suspected by its wartime enemies. It might have melted into chaos under a weaker man.

Yet, there were odd twists in his career which almost made his ascendancy look accidental.

He had been mayor of Cologne from 1917 until 1933, when Hitler threw him out for ordering Nazi posters torn down. He was in eclipse during the war. After it he became mayor again. Then the British threw him out.

This enabled him to devote all his energies to becoming chancellor. After the war he had helped create the Christian Democratic Union and became its leader. It was a kind of mass party, drawing support from all classes.

When his CDU won a narrow plurality in the 1949 election he formed a center-right coalition in the first Bonn Parliament. Then came the big test of his big ambition and he didn't win by much.

HIS ELECTION as chancellor of the new government in 1949 was by one vote in the 402-seat Parliament.

Five days after his election he laid down a view and a policy which he followed for the rest of his time in office.

He said there could be no peace in Europe until Germany was reunited (a hope that hasn't been realized yet although he persisted in it), that there must be an end to French-German hostility, that West Germany "belongs to Western Europe," and he linked West Germany's fate with that of the United States.

For several years before he stepped down in 1963, against his will, there had been growing dissension about his leadership within his party. Finally, his party dictated his departure.

He lived four years after that and was 91 when he died Wednesday.

Strike Crises Cause Concern

WASHINGTON — So tough, so relentless, so endless are the strike crises, that President Johnson now is set to clobber some of his labor allies — even if this means a wide open political break with his perpetually-motioned friends.

Victor Riesel

On a clear day he sees himself besieged forever — right through the Nov. 5th, 1968 presidential election. Literally!

Though his teams of mediators and advisers are working on the railroads, this is but one skirmish on the labor front.

From now on the White House enclave faces walkouts in such strategic industries as rubber production for fighters and bombers; shipyards making vital nuclear firing destroyers and their escorts; copper and brass, without which there could be no shells, big or small, for shooting or shelling; chemicals, meaning napalm; autos which could mean tanks, planes, spacecraft and good old fashioned trucks; and eventually, most of the nation's docks and steel mills.

And then he will have some truly big headaches. These come from the crises the public rarely gets to understand, even if they are devotees of Huntley and Brinkley. They crop up about twice a week.

FOR EXAMPLE, just before Mr. Johnson flew to Punta Del Este, some of his intimate aides were talking just as much about something called "Avco" as about the great train crisis.

Only the insiders knew that this referred to the strike threat at the Avco plant in Stratford, Conn. The Pentagon truly was screaming it could not afford a single day's stoppage if there was to be action in Vietnam — because the plant makes not only helicopter jet engines but spare parts as well.

At about the same moment labor's "cold war" heated up at another critical — but unknown — plant in Modesto, Calif. Again the Defense Dept. cried out that it must have continued production in the new installation — it will be making desperately needed shells for rural free delivery in North Vietnam.

There are now hundreds of these invisible conflicts. And in today's complex production of new electronic weaponry, a stoppage in some tiny out-of-the-way plant can cripple supplies needed for the most massive aerial, land and sea attack equipment.

During all this time, Congressional probers keep lobbing over charges of shortages of munitions on the fighting front. And they want a law. But what law? Who can devise a statute to contend effectively with the concealed crises as well as the big ones such as the coming brass and copper crisis.

Contracts in this non-ferrous industry — without which we would have to throw rocks at the Viet Cong — expire late in June. The industry then will be faced with the most solid labor front in recent history.

FIRST, the big steel union of the most astute, laconic and publicity-shying I. W. "Abe" Abel will merge officially with the tough little (old I.W.W.) Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers, men of the last frontier. They'll begin negotiations with such firms as Anaconda, Kennecott, Phelps-Dodge etc.

Then will come the coordinated bargaining technique George Meany and Walter Reuther used against the General Electric Co. — which whipped up such tension that the President had to call in Secretaries McNamara, Wirtz and Connor (then of Commerce) as mediators.

To face the copper and brass corporations, "Abe" Abel will gather around him the coal miners of old John Lewis; Reuther's auto workers; Charles Luna's Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen; Howard Coghlin's office employes; Roy Siemiller's machinists; the operating engineers and the teamsters just to name a few.

Then they'll bargain for mighty big stakes. And they'll try to deliver to a heated up rank and file which wants war-time cash in this tight labor market.

So Lyndon Johnson will ask his friends to lay off or he'll lay it on. Since the rank and file is out of control, no one can guarantee anything. So there will have to be a law.

Driving After Suspension, Man Gets 90-Day Jail Term

A 52-year-old East End man convicted of operating a car after his permit had been suspended on a drunken driving charge was given a 90-day term in County Jail — plus a stern lecture — when he appeared today before Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff.

John E. Caplinger of 718 Central Ave. was arrested at 11:22 a. m. Wednesday at Pennsylvania and Dewey Aves. by Patrolman Samuel E. Hayes. He was carrying a form showing he had applied for a learner's permit, police said.

Reading from Caplinger's record, the judge commented the defendant has been penalized on three occasions on drunken driving charges. Convicted the last time in March 1966, Caplinger is under three - year suspension that will continue until 1969, the judge remarked.

The judge also lectured Caplinger for obtaining a temporary instruction permit when he knew his license was suspended.

"You told a lie when you told the registrar your license was not now under suspension," the judge said.

When Caplinger protested at the lengh of the jail term the judge replied:

"You knew you weren't supposed to drive a car, but you did — in defiance of a court order. I can't give you a medal for that!"

—:—

MEANWHILE, Fred L. Rayl, 32, of 605 Northside Ave. was penalized on two charges—failure to display 1967 tags on his car and driving with an expired operator's permit.

He was ordered to pay the costs on the license tag charge and fined $10 and costs on the driver's license count. Rayl was cited by the State Highway Patrol Sunday at 3:25 a. m. on Route 30.

Queried by the judge, he said he had purchased his 1967 tags two days previously but had not put them on his car. The new tags were lying on the auto seat, the patrol said. He was cited less than four hours after the 1966 tags expired.

Rayl said his driver's license expired last July, but he mistakenly thought it expired in July 1967. He said the new tags now are on his auto and he has obtained a new driver's license.

Two out of town drivers forfeited $17.50 appearance bonds.

They are Henry F. Thake, 43, of Youngstown, cited by the patrol Wednesday at 1:45 p. m. on Route 30 on a charge of passing on a curve, and George Cibruk of Macedonia, Ohio, arrested by the patrol Wednesday at 12:25 p. m. on Route 30 on a charge of speeding 60 miles an hour in a 45-mile zone.

Mishaps Investigated By Wellsville Police

Two minor accidents were investigated Tuesday by Wellsville police.

Cars driven by Anna Newman of 610 6th St., Chester, and Donald C. Menough, of 179 Thompson Ave., East Liverpool, collided at the intersection of 3rd St. and Cherry Alley at 2:35 p. m.

Later, Elizabeth Olesky of Irondale told police she pulled out of Legion St. onto Route 7 and was struck by an auto driven by Karen Sue Williams of Wellsville. Neither driver was cited.

Spanish 'Fiesta' Presented By Club At Western Beaver

"Gran Fiesta," a dinner celebration featuring colorful Spanish costumes, music, dancing and holiday foods, was hosted by the Spanish Club of Western Beaver High School for 103 members of the Spanish department Monday night iin the high school cafetorium at Industry.

The affair was held to commemorate Pan-American Week and honored the 21 Pan-American nations and their flags and the two foreign exchange students at Western Beaver High School, Alfredo Ortiz-Baeza of Mendoza, Argentina, currently residing with Mr. and Mrs. Robert Preston in Industry, and Liliana Arrigoni of Cordoba, Argentina, who arrived Saturday to reside with Mr. and Mrs. William Black in Industry.

Mrs. Henrietta Keck, area director of the Pittsburgh chapter of International Fellowship, Inc., was also a special guest.

Festivities included "The Mexican Hat Dance," Linda Markle; vocal duet, "Hasta Luego," Becky Nola and Terry Black, accompanied on the piano by Chris Stall; selections on the electric guitar, Dean Eshenbaugh; a comedy, "Why Learn Spanish?" with the cast including Tom Verzella, Liz Gibson and Ron Carroll, and a modern version of Little Red Riding Hood-A-Go-Go, in Spanish by Melenie Engle, Richard Stephens and Bess Polce.

Sharron Petruska was a gypsy fortune teller.

Everyone joined in the breaking of a pinata made by Carol Whitt.

Leo Curto, music supervisor, led the group in a sing-along in Spanish.

An instrumental group comprised of Spanish students entertained. The musicians includens, Eshenbaugh, Verzella, Mike Nola, Victor Preston, Jim Herrin and Mike George.

Decorations were in red and gold, colors of the Spanish flag.

Mrs. Helen Clear, Spanish teacher, was in charge of arrangements.

The food was prepared by the home economics department under the direction of the instructor, Mrs. Dennis Cambier. Mary Lou Barrickman and Kathy Begg were dinner co-chairmen.

Guests Speak To Women

180 Join Annual County 'Achievement Day' Event

LISBON — Approximately 180 attended the Columbiana County Extension Homemakers Council's annual "Achievement Day" program Wednesday in the First Methodist Church.

"What Makes Our County Tick" was the theme for the morning and afternoon program. Guest speakers were:

Floyd Lower of Lisbon, president of the Regional Planning Commission; Miss Catherine Franzetta, director of the Community Action Committee; Donald Hepp, county welfare director, and Dr. M. K. Singer, county health commissioner.

They formed a panel for a question - and - answer period concluding the program.

Mrs. Jay Eells of Elkton, council president, presided for the morning session and Mrs. Wayne Herron of Winona, vice president, was in charge in the afternoon.

The following new home councilors were installed by Mrs. Ben Smith of Elkton and Mrs. D. W. Dickey of Lisbon:

Mrs. Earl Broadbent, Beaver Local Homemakers Group; Mrs. Dorothy Eddie, Calcutta Friendly Neighbors; Mrs. Ida Zeppernick, Butler Township; Mrs. William R. Cullison and Mrs. Homer Williard, Center Township; Mrs. Arno Holderread, Columbiana Homemakers; Mrs. Walter Cooper and Mrs. William Fahndrick, Crestview Homemakers.

Mrs. Harvey Mohr, Mrs. Robert Matthews and Mrs. Russell Reesh, East Palestine Homemakers; Mrs. Evan Lewis, Elkrun Township; Mrs. Harry Miller and Mrs. Donald Hoffmaster, Fairfield Friendly Neighbors; Mrs. William Brown, Franklin Township; Mrs. Art Kibler, Hanover Township; Mrs. Paul Schmitt, Hilltop Homemakers of East Liverpool.

Mrs. George Weikart, Salem and Perry Townships; Mrs. George Montgomery, Unity Progressive Homemakers; Mrs. Charles Smail and Mrs. Mary Ketchum, Wayne Township, and Mrs. Jerome Gitschier, Mrs. Vaughn McMorrow and Mrs. Evert Bunfill, all of Wellsville.

Mrs. Camille Kelton of Hanoverton played the organ. Mrs. Joseph Mattevi of Lisbon R. D. 4 called the roll. Three past presidents participated: Mrs. C. C. Waeffler of East Rochester, devotions; Mrs. Clifford Israel of Beloit R. D., table grace, and Mrs. Richard Stamp of Salem R. D., closing prayer.

Entertainment was furnished by a kitchen band composed of Mrs. Weikart, Mrs. Marge Roberts, Mrs. Arlene Gurski, Mrs. Madge Ludwig, Mrs. Ann Reash, Mrs. Mary Weaver, Mrs. Freda Rogers, Mrs. Adelaide Zeitler and Mrs. Gladys Blosser.

Thirteen women from an advanced sewing class taught by Ann Overturf, county extension agent for home economics, modeled outfits they made.

'THE RUSSIAN DELEGATES' to the mock United Nations exercise held Wednesday at Wellsville High School, David Bush, is flanked by Secretary-General Tom Meadows and Dick Stevens, General Assembly president. Resolutions to admit Red China and change the veto power of the assembly failed, while resolutions to broaden U.N. research into women's rights and expel South Africa were approved. South Africa was expelled because of its "apartheid" policy, "repugnant to Article 55 of the United Nations Charter". William Riley, history teacher, directed the exercise.

11 Contracts Are Extended

SALINEVILLE — Expiring teacher contracts were renewed for another year when the Southern Local Board of Education met in special session Wednesday night. Eleven contracts were extended.

Supt. Thomas Leek received permission to purchase social studies and English textbooks for grades one through eight.

A Title I federal project was approved and will begin June 12. The summer school will include typing, music, kindergarten and a reading trailer. Bus schedules will be the same as last year.

The board approved a $2,800 Title II grant under the Elementary and Educational Library Materials Act. About $2,200 of the money will go toward the purchase of elementary books and transparencies, with the balance earmarked for high school use.

A Title III matching grant was approved to purchase darkening drapes at Highlandtown Elementary School. Three bids have been received.

Charles Allison presided.

Six Are Treated In Emergencies

A city woman hurt in a fall early today was treated at City Hospital, where five other area residents were treated Wednesday.

Mrs. Ruth Martin of 1025 Ephriam St. sustained abrasions of the left foot when she fell at home.

Daniel Shroader II, son of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Shroader of Crawford Trailer Court, received an ankle injury in a fall at school.

Matt Stipec Jr. of Winsor Heights, Chester, employed at the Dill Construction Co. suffered a laceration of the left thumb when a knife slipped while he was trimming molding.

James Lee Johnson Jr., son of Mrs. James L. Johnson of Echo Dr., Wellsville, sustained abrasions of the left lower leg when a dog bit him.

Bernard Watters, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Watters of East Liverpool R. D. 2, received a contusion of the left thumb in a fall at home.

Charles Wiggers of Salem, employed at the Loblaw Store on Bradshaw Ave., suffered a laceration of the right index finger on a saw while at work.

Head Start, Youth Corps

CAC Receives Approval For 2 County Programs

LISBON — The Community Action Committee of Columbiana County, Inc., has received approval of summer Head Start Neighborhood Youth Corps programs.

Miss Catherine Franzetta, CAC director, made the announcement at the monthly meeting Tuesday in the Welfare Department building.

She said the Head Start program has a $21,000 budget, with $16,720 as the federal share. The program will be for 75 pre-school children in East Liverpool and Wellsville, which had programs last summer, and Lisbon for the first time.

The NYC program has been approved for six weeks beginning June 26 and will provide work for 60 enrollees, ages 16-21, throughout the county.

The director said the year - round Head Start program is in the "process review stage" and that the "Nelson Project" to employ men to help build West Township Community Park has been transferred to the Department of Labor for re-writing.

CAC has applied for a teachers' aide training project through the Manpower Development Training Act of the Ohio Employment Service in East Liverpool. The purpose of the program is to train 50 persons to assist teachers in school districts of the county.

The committee discussed establishing a neighborhood center that would include a comprehensive health plan for persons in a low-income area.

Mrs. Helen G. Welch of Wellsville, president, presided. Mrs. Louis Hull of East Palestine was elected a trustee. Mrs. Ruth Jenkins of Rogers was named secretary of the board, relieving Mrs. Genesta Vokovich of Lisbon of that post. Mrs. Vokovich, treasurer, has been handling the secretary's work since the resignation of Ann Overturf of Lisbon in November.

The board approved salary increases for Miss Cheryl Mills of Lisbon and Mrs. Alta Smith of Wellsville, staff employes, and employed Mrs. Bettye Greenamyer of 310 Penn Ave., Salem, as bookkeeper - program coordinator at $380 a month, beginning May 1. She succeeds Mrs. Donald Humphrey of Kensington R. D. 1, bookkeeper, who resigned.

Acting for the committee, Mrs. Welch will write a letter of condolence to Orin Smith Jr., East Liverpool policeman and CAC board member, whose mother, Mrs. Willana Smith, died recently.

Fitness Club To Hold Skating Party At Rink

Mrs. Jackie McVay led marching and Mrs. Lana White the exercises when the East Liverpool Women's Physical Fitness Club met Wednesday night at the Eagles Hall.

The club will hold a skating party Monday at the Kay Bee Rink.

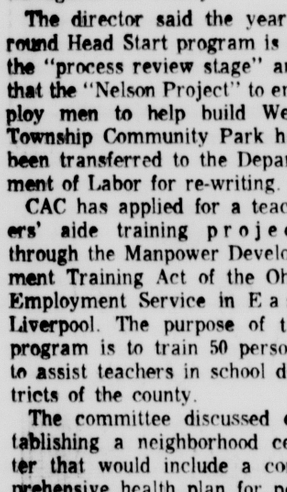

Members were reminded to pick up blankets at the hall by Wednesday.

The club will hold its May meetings at Thompson Park.

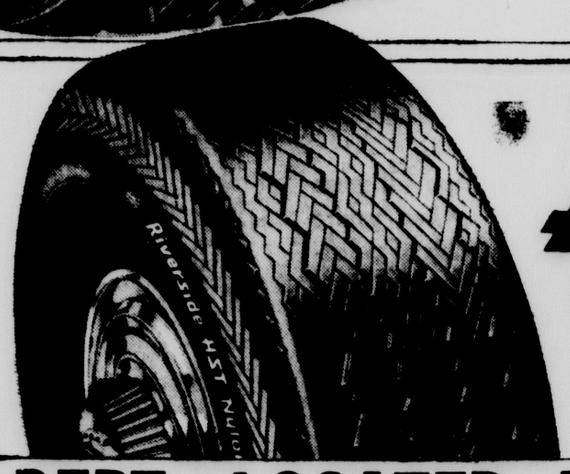

Students Make Tour Of Pittsburgh Points

HAMMONDSVILLE — Students of the Hammondsville Elementary School toured the Carnegie Museum at Pittsburgh and Buhl Planetarium Saturday, accompanied by two teachers from the school.

The group included 32 students from the fourth and fifth grades. Mrs. Marie Myers and Miss Patricia Daily were the teachers. The trip was made by school bus.

180 Join Annual County 'Achievement Day' Event

LISBON — Approximately 180 attended the Columbiana County Extension Homemakers Council's annual "Achievement Day" program Wednesday in the First Methodist Church.

"What Makes Our County Tick" was the theme for the morning and afternoon program. Guest speakers were:

Floyd Lower of Lisbon, president of the Regional Planning Commission; Miss Catherine Franzetta, director of the Community Action Commlttee; Donald Hepp, county welfare director, and Dr. M. K. Singer, county health commissioner.

They formed a panel for a question - and - answer period concluding the program.

Mrs. Jay Eells of Elkton, council president, presided for the morning session and Mrs. Wayne Herron of Winona, vice president, was in charge in the afternoon.

The following new home councilors were installed by Mrs. Ben Smith of Elkton and Mrs. D. W. Dickey of Lisbon:

Mrs. Earl Broadbent, Beaver Local Homemakers Group; Mrs. Dorothy Eddie, Calcutta Friendly Neighbors; Mrs. Ida Zeppernick, Butler Township; Mrs. William R. Cullison and Mrs. Homer Williard, Center Township; Mrs. Arno Holderread, Columbiana Homemakers; Mrs. Walter Cooper and Mrs. William Fahndrick, Crestview Homemakers.

Mrs. Harvey Mohr, Mrs. Robert Matthews and Mrs. Russell Reesh, East Palestine Homemakers; Mrs. Evan Lewis, Elkrun Township; Mrs. Harry Miller and Mrs. Donald Hoffmaster, Fairfield Friendly Neighbors; Mrs. William Brown, Franklin Township; Mrs. Art Kibler, Hanover Township; Mrs. Paul Schmitt, Hilltop Homemakers of East Liverpool.

Mrs. George Weikart, Salem and Perry Townships; Mrs. George Montgomery, Unity Progressive Homemakers; Mrs. Charles Smail and Mrs. Mary Ketchum, Wayne Township, and Mrs. Jerome Gitschier, Mrs. Vaughn McMorrow and Mrs. Evert Bunfill, all of Wellsville.

Mrs. Camille Kelton of Hanoverton played the organ. Mrs. Joseph Mattevi of Lisbon R. D. 4 called the roll. Three past presidents participated: Mrs. C. C. Waeffle: of East Rochester, devotions; Mrs. Clifford Israel of Beloit R. D., table grace, and Mrs. Richard Stamp of Salem R. D., closing prayer.

Entertainment was furnished by a kitchen band composed of Mrs. Weikart, Mrs. Marge Roberts, Mrs. Arlene Gurski, Mrs. Madge Ludwig, Mrs. Ann Reash, Mrs. Mary Weaver, Mrs. Freda Rogers, Mrs. Adelaide Zeitler and Mrs. Gladys Blosser.

Thirteen women from an advanced sewing class taught by Ann Overturf, county extension agent for home economics, modeled outfits they made.

'THE RUSSIAN DELEGATES' to the mock United Nations exercise held Wednesday at Wellsville High School, David Bush, is flanked by Secretary-General Tom Meadows and Dick Stevens, General Assembly president. Resolutions to admit Red China and change the veto power of the assembly failed, while resolutions to broaden U.N. research into women's rights and expel South Africa were approved. South Africa was expelled because of its "apartheid" policy, "repugnant to Article 55 of the United Nations Charter". William Riley, history teacher, directed the exercise.

11 Contracts Are Extended

SALINEVILLE — Expiring teacher contracts were renewed for another year when the Southern Local Board of Education met in special session Wednesday night. Eleven contracts were extended.

Supt. Thomas Leek received permission to purchase social studies and English textbooks for grades one through eight.

A Title I federal project was approved and will begin June 12. The summer school will include typing, music, kindergarten and a reading trailer. Bus schedules will be the same as last year.

The board approved a $2,800 Title II grant under the Elementary and Educational Library Materials Act. About $2,200 of the money will go toward the purchase of elementary books and transparencies, with the balance earmarked for high school use.

A Title III matching grant was approved to purchase darkening drapes at Highlandtown Elementary School. Three bids have been received.

Charles Allison presided.

Six Are Treated In Emergencies

A city woman hurt in a fall early today was treated at City Hospital, where five other area residents were treated Wednesday.

Mrs. Ruth Martin of 1025 Ephriam St. sustained abrasions of the left foot when she fell at home.

Daniel Shroader II, son of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Shroader of Crawford Trailer Court, received an ankle injury in a fall at school.

Matt Stipec Jr. of Winsor Heights, Chester, employed at the Dill Construction Co. suffered a laceration of the left thumb when a knife slipped while he was trimming molding.

James Lee Johnson Jr., son of Mrs. James L. Johnson of Echo Dr., Wellsville, sustained abrasions of the left lower leg when a dog bit him.

Bernard Watters, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Watters of East Liverpool R. D. 2, received a contusion of the left thumb in a fall at home.

Prevent crabgrass while you fertilize

By far the best answer to crabgrass is to stop it before it starts. When you apply HALTS PLUS you set up a crabgrass barrier — at the same time you give your grass a full feeding equivalent to TURF BUILDER, the fertilizer that makes grass multiply itself. Takes no more time. Does both jobs at once.

Prevent crabgrass while you fertilize

By far the best answer to crabgrass is to stop it before it starts. When you apply HALTS PLUS you set up a crabgrass barrier — at the same time you give your grass a full feeding equivalent to TURF BUILDER, the fertilizer that makes grass multiply itself. Takes no more time. Does both jobs at once.

Everyone 'Goes Hawaiian' During Church Class Luau

Hawaiian attire was shown during the "luau" given by Dia Konia Class of the Trinity United Presbyterian Church Tuesday night in the Bethlehem Room.

Mrs. Edward Aliulis modeled the "long muumuu;" Miss Grace Deidrick, a "sarong;" Mrs. Stanley Rose, a "short muumuu;" Mrs. John Evans, the "paper muumuu;" Diane Perkins, a child's "holoku;" Miss Lida Smith, a "hostess caftan;" Mrs. Kenneth Johnson, the "hula skirt;" Mrs. Clark Bradfield, the "split-side muumuu" and Mrs. Lester Hall, the formal "holomu." Mrs. Douglas McConnachie provided piano background music.

"The Hawaiian Wedding Song" was sung by "The Triniteens" — Miss Ella Sue Bradfield, Miss Ruth Bradfield, Miss Charlotte Webber and Miss Glenda Webber. Mrs. Larry Walton is director.

Mrs. William E. Kaiser, general chairman, who recently visited in Hawaii, spoke on "The Hula — The Happy Hand Talk of Hawaii." She introduced Mrs. Kenneth Johnson, Mrs. Hall and her granddaughter, Diane Perkins, who demonstrated the dance to the recorded music of "Sweet Leilani."

WEARING informal island attire, Mrs. H. Gene Toot sang "The Little Grass Shack in Kealakekua, Hawaii." She was accompanied by Miss Mary Compa on the ukulele.

Millinery fashions were modeled by Mrs. Bayard Hunsicker, Mrs. Aliulis, Mrs. McConnachie and Mrs. Charles Haugh, who wore a "Heloise" hat made by Mrs. Maryhester McIntyre. Mrs. Hall, mistress of ceremonies, auctioned the hats, with proceeds going toward the project fund. Mrs. Kaiser, project chairman, arranged the event.

Mrs. Emmett Lawrence conducted devotions on "You Can Touch Jesus." She introduced her guests, Mrs. Bea Wooden, who sang "He Touched Me" and "He Set Us Free," and Mrs. Nell Pelley, who was accompanist.

Mrs. L. W. Reed, vice president, extended the welcome and conducted business, with reports heard from Mrs. McConnachie, acting secretary; Mrs. Hunsicker, treasurer, and Mrs. Delbert Tittle, building fund chairman.

Further plans were discussed by Mrs. Kaiser for the purchasing of a platform. Lenten coin bags were returned.

Birthday anniversary greetings were sung for Mrs. Hunsicker, who was presented a cake and gift.

Speaking on behalf of the class, Mrs. Reed presented Mrs. Henrietta Hundt with a gift. She is leaving in the near future to reside in St. Petersburg.

The program closed with the humming of "Aloha." The background was highlighted with tall and flat floral arrangements, wicker baskets of fruit, small flowers pinned on draped maline and a set of Hawaiian figurines. A "Hula Shoppe" featured an assortment of dresses and hats arranged near a large decorative mirror.

Industry

Mrs. Pat Nuzzo 634-6836

Approximately 40 attended the 14th annual dinner meeting of the Lutheran Christian Women of the Ohio View Evangelical Lutheran Church Tuesday night at the fellowship hall.

Honored guests included past presidents, life members and church officers. Mrs. Homer Paul, chairman of Beaver - Butler District 6, a member of the LCW, its first president and a life member, was one of the guests honored.

Others included Mrs. Robert Cowan, past president and life member, Mrs. C. Lloyd Deffenbaugh, life member, and Rochelle Paul, life member.

Mrs. Oscar L. Arnal, wife of the pastor of the church, introduced the honored guests, and Mrs. George Madish pinned a daffodil corsage on each. The members' husbands were also guests.

Mrs. Lee Albacker sang a solo, "He Smiled on Me."

Mrs. Paul reviewed the organization's history since its organization in 1953.

The program featured a four-act play, "The Church Council-Then and Now," written, directed and produced by Rev. Arnal. The play pertained to an early church council in Old Jerusalem and a present day council meeting.

A three - part Bible question discussion was led by the pastor following the program. The Ohio View Church Players, a group of Luther Leaguers taking part in the program, included Rick Stephens, Diana Cowan, Dean Eshenbaugh, Don Albacker, Wayne Robbins, Rochelle Paul, Terry Black, Ed Kirkpatrick, Robert Robbins and Lewis Kirkpatrick.

Mrs. Jack M. Peck, president of the LCW, gave the welcome address. Future events she announced included a Lutheran Service Society volunteer service meeting May 11 at St. Mark's Lutheran Church at Butler for presidents, LCW members and social ministry committees; Pentecost Sunday May 14; Christian Family Week May 7-14 to help strengthen Christian Education; and the annual May Fellowship Day May 5 at the Evangelical United Brethren Church at Industry.

Mrs. Peck announced that she and Mrs. Cowan, and Rev. and Mrs. Arnal attended the District 6 spring meeting April 13 at the House of Prayer Lutheran Church at Aliquippa where Mrs. Peck and Mrs. Cowan served as ushers and Mrs. Paul presided.

Mrs. Cowan announced that vacation church school will be sponsored by the church June 12-16.

Mrs. Deffenbaugh announced the next meeting will be held May 16 at 8:15 p.m. at fellowship hall. This will be a thankoffering meeting. Mrs. Charles Newcombe and Mrs. William Stiblo will present the program and devotions.

Mrs. Stephen Hazy named Mrs. George Atherton as altar-care chairman for May. Mrs. Atherton will be assisted by Mrs. Theodore Steiner, Mrs. Clarence Carver, Mrs. William Safford, and Cindy Safford.

Mrs. Karl Wagoner reported on the church altar vases the LCW has had refinished.

The Sunday nursery schedule outlined by Mrs. Arnal, chairman, included Mrs. Joseph Fiediga, April 30; Mrs. Homer Gifford, May 7; Mrs. Arnal, May 14; Mrs. Helen Graham, May 21; and Mrs. Fiediga, May 28.

Rev. Arnal offered the invocation and benediction. He made opening remarks and introduced the LCW and church officers.

Mrs. Deffenbaugh arranged the table decorations. The head table featured an assortment of tulips, jonquils and hyacinths in a brass bowl flanked by two yellow tapers. The U-shaped tables were decorated with small pink candles in holders surrounded by apple blossoms, grape hyacinths and pink tulips, all arranged on panels of light green crepe paper running the length of the tables.

Mrs. Cowan, dinner chairman, was assisted by Mrs. Gifford, co-hostess, and Mrs. Deffenbaugh, Mrs. Hazy, Mrs. Laco Shreve, Mrs. Arnal, Mrs. Fiediga and the Luther Leaguers.

⁂ ⁂ ⁂

Delegates of the Ohio View-Industry Woman's Club, Mrs. Ed Stephens, Mrs. DuWayne Porter and Mrs. Charles Poice, attended the spring meeting of the Beaver County Federation of Woman's Clubs at the United Jewish Community Center in Chippewa Township this afternoon.

Everyone 'Goes Hawaiian' During Church Class Luau

Hawaiian attire was shown during the "luau" given by Dia Konia Class of the Trinity United Presbyterian Church Tuesday night in the Bethlehem Room.

Mrs. Edward Aliulis modeled the "long muumuu;" Miss Grace Deidrick, a "sarong;" Mrs. Stanley Rose, a "short muumuu;" Mrs. John Evans, the "paper muumuu;" Diane Perkins, a child's "holoku;" Miss Lida Smith, a "hostess caftan;" Mrs. Kenneth Johnson, the "hula skirt;" Mrs. Clark Bradfield, the "split-side muumuu" and Mrs. Lester Hall, the formal "holomu." Mrs. Douglas McConnachie provided piano background music.

"The Hawaiian Wedding Song" was sung by "The Trinieens" — Miss Ella Sue Bradfield, Miss Ruth Bradfield, Miss Charlotte Webber and Miss Glenda Webber. Mrs. Larry Walton is director.

Mrs. William E. Kaiser, general chairman, who recently visited in Hawaii, spoke on "The Hula — The Happy Hand Talk of Hawaii." She introduced Mrs. Kenneth Johnson, Mrs. Hall and her granddaughter, Diane Perkins, who demonstrated the dance to the recorded music of "Sweet Leilani."

WEARING informal island attire, Mrs. H. Gene Toot sang "The Little Grass Shack in Kealakekua, Hawaii." She was accompanied by Miss Mary Compa on the ukulele.

Millinery fashions were modeled by Mrs. Bayard Hunsicker, Mrs. Aliulis, Mrs. McConnachie and Mrs. Charles Haugh, who wore a "Heloise" hat made by Mrs. Maryhester McIntyre. Mrs. Hall, mistress of ceremonies, auctioned the hats, with proceeds going toward the project fund. Mrs. Kaiser, project chairman, arranged the event.

Mrs. Emmett Lawrence conducted devotions on "You Can Touch Jesus." She introduced her guests, Mrs. Bea Wooden, who sang "He Touched Me" and "He Set Us Free," and Mrs. Nell Pelley, who was accompanist.

Mrs. L. W. Reed, vice president, extended the welcome and conducted business, with reports heard from Mrs. McConnachie, acting secretary; Mrs. Hunsicker, treasurer, and Mrs. Delbert Tittle, building fund chairman.

Further plans were discussed by Mrs. Kaiser for the purchasing of a platform. Lenten coin bags were returned.

Birthday anniversary greetings were sung for Mrs. Hunsicker, who was presented a cake and gift.

Speaking on behalf of the class, Mrs. Reed presented Mrs. Henrietta Hundt with a gift. She is leaving in the near future to reside in St. Petersburg.

The program closed with the humming of "Aloha." The background was highlighted with tall and flat floral arrangements, wicker baskets of fruit, small flowers pinned on draped maline and a set of Hawaiian figurines. A "Hula Shoppe" featured an assortment of dresses and hats arranged near a large decorative mirror.

REFRESHMENTS were served 50 by Mrs. Stanley Rose, social chairman, and her committee, Mrs. Reid Calcott, Mrs. Theda Campbell, Mrs. Evans and Mrs. Johnson, assisted by Mrs. Reed, Mrs. Lawrence Hayden, Mrs. Neil McIntosh and Miss Winifred Calcott.

The buffet table was covered with a pink cloth, overlaid with a beige crocheted cloth. A gold and pink theme predominated with the use of apple blossoms and pink tapers in brass holders. The centerpiece was a Hawaiian doll in muumuu which was brought along with the napkins from Hawaii by Mrs. Kaiser. Mrs. Reed poured at the silver coffee service and Mrs. Johnson at the pink milkglass punch bowl.

A program on flowers will be presented at the next session May 16 with Mrs. Toot of St. Clair Ave.

Couple Honored With Reception On Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. William E. Cunningham of Route 170, Calcutta, were honored with a reception in observance of their 40th wedding anniversary Sunday afternoon at the Glenmoor service center of the Ohio Valley Gas Co.

They were married April 15, 1927, at Marietta. Mrs. Cunningham, the former Violet Patterson, is the daughter of Mrs. Mary Patterson of Elizabeth, W. Va., and the late W. T. Patterson.

Foreign Visitors Await Tours Of Panhandle Area

A close look at Farmers Home Administration programs in Northern Panhandle counties will be taken next week by seven foreign agricultural credit specialists when they arrive Monday in Moundsville.

The group, from Jordon, Korea, Zambia, Afghanistan and Indonesia, will be accompanied by Jack Hartman, foreign nationals office from the agency's national office in Washington.

Each day next week the visitors will visit farms where FHA services are used in the Northern Panhandle.

Monday the group will visit the William H. Huff, Merle L. Chaplin and John M. Cunningham farms in Marshall County; Tuesday, farms operated by James Hall, Lee Junior Duvall and John T. Rose in Ohio County, and Wednesday, the Erva V. Meadows, Wilbert N. Williams and Louis Yanak farms in Marshall County.

The foreign visitors are studying agricultural credit in the U.S. under sponsorship of the Agency for International Development. All are recognized authorities and private or government officials in their home countries.

Turner said the Moundsville unit was selected as an area of study for the group because of the outstanding FHA program in the state.

Ohio Will Play Host To 4-H Dairy Judging

LISBON — Ohio will be host to the national 4-H Dairy judging contest in October for the first time, according to Robert Lewis, Columbiana County extension agent for 4-H.

The contest has been an activity of the National Dairy Congress at Waterloo, Iowa, for many years.

Lewis said 40 teams of 4-H dairy cattle judges will compete Oct. 16 at the Ohio Expositions Center at Columbus. The event will be part of the North American Dairy Cattle show Oct. 14-19.

Ohio's entry in the contest will be a team selected from high-scoring 4-H dairy cattle judges at the state fair in August. The boy or girl who scores highest in the national contest will receive a $100 scholarship.

Foreign Visitors Await Tours Of Panhandle Area

A close look at Farmers Home Administration programs in Northern Panhandle counties will be taken next week by seven foreign agricultural credit specialists when they arrive Monday in Moundsville.

The group, from Jordon, Korea, Zambia, Afghanistan and Indonesia, will be accompanied by Jack Hartman, foreign nationals office from the agency's national office in Washington.

Each day next week the visitors will visit farms where FHA services are used in the Northern Panhandle.

Monday the group will visit the William H. Huff, Merle L. Chaplin and John M. Cunningham farms in Marshall County; Tuesday, farms operated by James Hall, Lee Junior Duvall and John T. Rose in Ohio County, and Wednesday, the Erva V. Meadows, Wilbert N. Williams and Louis Yanak farms in Marshall County.

The foreign visitors are studying agricultural credit in the U.S. under sponsorship of the Agency for International Development. All are recognized authorities and private or government officials in their home countries.

Turner said the Moundsville unit was selected as an area of study for the group because of the outstanding FHA program in the state.

Ohio Will Play Host To 4-H Dairy Judging

LISBON — Ohio will be host to the national 4-H Dairy judging contest in October for the first time, according to Robert Lewis, Columbiana County extension agent for 4-H.

The contest has been an activity of the National Dairy Congress at Waterloo, Iowa, for many years.

Lewis said 40 teams of 4-H dairy cattle judges will compete Oct. 16 at the Ohio Expositions Center at Columbus. The event will be part of the North American Dairy Cattle show Oct. 14-19.

Ohio's entry in the contest will be a team selected from high-scoring 4-H dairy cattle judges at the state fair in August. The boy or girl who scores highest in the national contest will receive a $100 scholarship.

80 Attend Open House At Offices Of Board

LISBON — Eighty attended open house from 3 to 5 Wednesday afternoon at the Columbiana County Board of Education's new offices in the old post office on the Square.

2 Picked For Boys State

Midland Legion Names 5 As Convention Delegates

Delegates were elected to attend the state American Legion convention when Midland American Legion Post 481 met Monday night at the post rooms. Named to attend the event July 19-22 at Pittsburgh were Robert Dick, Stephen Crano, William Riddle, Woodrow Pflugh and William Coble.

The incoming officers to be elected in June for 1967-68 will also attend the event.

Selected from among area high school juniors to attend Keystone Boys' State June 26-July 3 at Pennsylvania State University at State College, Pa., were Barney Newman from Lincoln High School and Donald Camaioni of Western Beaver High School.

Barney is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Maurice J. Newman of 820 Penn Ave., Midland, and Donald is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Camaioni of Industry.

Louis Zigarelli, Keystone State chairman, made the announcement of the selection of the delegates at Monday's meeting.

Pflugh and Joseph Mulach were named co-chairmen of a float committee to prepare a float on the theme "This is My Country," for Midland's 1967 Fourth of July celebration.

Crano and Lester Barr, commander, are co-chairmen of the post's participation in the Midland Invitational Track meet May 10. The post will award a gold medal for each first place winner, a silver for each second, bronze to each third, and ribbons to each fourth and fifth place winners. The awards will be donated by the post.

William Riddle announced plans for the Memorial Day observance are being advanced. He said the post will decorate graves in the Midland area, including St. Paul's Cemetery and Oak Grove at Industry, and Highland, Cunningham and Laughlin Cemeteries in Ohioville.

Mulach reminded the public should fly the flag on Memorial Day. He said the post has additional flags for sale.

Coble said the auxiliary will complete plans for Poppy Day at their next meeting May 8. He reported that the auxiliary saw the film, "Hawaii," at the Squirrel Hill theater recently.

The Beaver County committee will meet Saturday at 8 p. m. at the Beaver Falls post with County commander William Wright of Baden presiding.

The Midland post will meet next on May 1 at 8 p. m. at the post rooms.

Attends Birthday

IRONDALE — Mrs. Mattie Barker Boggs of Saline St. has returned from Olive Hill, Ky., where her father, James Rufus Tackett, was honored with a party on his 100th birthday Wednesday. Accompanying Mrs. Boggs were her daughter, Mrs. Clyde J. Russell, also of Saline St., and Mrs. R. E. Patton, whose husband is distantly related to Mr. Tackett.

During Meeting Here

Band, Orchestra Group Names Its New Officers

New officers were approved when the East Liverpool Band and Orchestra Mothers met Tuesday night at Memorial Auditorium.

They include: Mrs. Norris Koerber, president; Mrs. Arthur Eddy and Mrs. Robert Bickar, vice presidents; Mrs. Jess Finley, treasurer, and Mrs. Lewis Stoddard, secretary. They will be installed at the May meeting.

The nominating committee included Mrs. George Welker, Mrs. William Frail and Mrs. Louis Krawiec.

—:—

DONALD ADAMS, band director, spoke briefly and announced that as the result of tryouts Mitchell Jones will be the head major for next term. James Cline will be drum minor; Karen Simpson, head majorette; Karen Jones, sergeant, and Linda Hamilton, Coleen Shafer, Mary Lisle, Marsha Merriman, Julie Tolson, Linda Haney, Cindy Standley, Debbie Eddy and Susan Popejoy, alternates.

The band will march in five parades during the next few months, beginning with Memorial Day.

There will be a percussion workshop today with an ensemble from Youngstown University taking part.

Adams also announced that the spring band concert will be April 28. He outlined activities for Band Camp. A question-and-answer period followed.

Named to the auditing committee were Mrs. Thelma Calhoon, Mrs. Margarette Hargreaves and Mrs. Ann Krawiec.

Mrs. Arnold McDowell announced that a new location will be needed for next year's band banquet - dance, since the present one is to be remodeled and will not be large enough.

Senior parents were reminded that money for this year's banquet on May 6 at the Country Club is now due. The group has been asked to serve at three banquets, May 27, May 29 and June 5.

—:—

THE MEETING was opened by Mrs. Thomas Snow, president, followed with devotions by Mrs. McDowell, who read the poem "A Thought For Every Day" from the book "Easter Ideas."

Reports were read by Mrs. Charles Martin, acting secretary, and Mrs. John Morgan, treasurer. Mrs. Snow reported that $676.74 was netted on tag day. Mrs. Martin was in charge of the jewelry sale, with $14 realized.

Past band mothers attending included Mrs. Charles Deshler, Mrs. Charles Waggoner, Mrs. Earl Locke, Mrs. Merl McSwegin, Mrs. Mary Smith, Mrs. Willis Standley and Mrs. Howard Claypool. Comments were given by each guest.

A social hour followed, with the table decorated with a yellow and white centerpiece flanked with yellow tapers. The social committee was in charge.

Midland Legion Names 5 As Convention Delegates

Delegates were elected to attend the state American Legion convention when Midland American Legion Post 481 met Monday night at the post rooms. Named to attend the event July 19-22 at Pittsburgh were Robert Dick, Stephen Crano, William Riddle, Woodrow Pflugh and William Coble.

The incoming officers to be elected in June for 1967-68 will also attend the event.

Selected from among area high school juniors to attend Keystone Boys' State June 26-July 3 at Pennsylvania State University at State College, Pa., were Barney Newman from Lincoln High School and Donald Camaioni of Western Beaver High School.

Barney is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Maurice J. Newman of 820 Fenn Ave., Midland, and Donald is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Camaioni of Industry. Louis Zigarelli, Keystone State chairman, made the announcement of the selection of the delegates at Monday's meeting.

Pflugh and Joseph Mulach were named co-chairmen of a float committee to prepare a float on the theme "This is My Country," for Midland's 1967 Fourth of July celebration.

Crano and Lester Barr, commander, are co-chairmen of the post's participation in the Midland Invitational Track meet May 10. The post will award a gold medal for each first place winner, a silver for each second, bronze to each third, and ribbons to each fourth and fifth place winners. The awards will be donated by the post.

William Riddle announced plans for the Memorial Day observance are being advanced. He said the post will decorate graves in the Midland area, including St. Paul's Cemetery and Oak Grove at Industry, and Highland, Cunningham and Laughlin Cemeteries in Ohioville.

Mulach reminded the public should fly the flag on Memorial Day. He said the post has additional flags for sale.

Coble said the auxiliary will complete plans for Poppy Day at their next meeting May 8. He reported that the auxiliary saw the film, "Hawaii," at the Squirrel Hill theater recently.

The Beaver County committee will meet Saturday at 8 p. m. at the Beaver Falls post with County commander William Wright of Baden presiding.

The Midland post will meet next on May 1 at 8 p. m. at the post rooms.

Attends Birthday

IRONDALE — Mrs. Mattie Barker Boggs of Saline St. has returned from Olive Hill, Ky., where her father, James Rufus Tackett, was honored with a party on his 100th birthday Wednesday. Accompanying Mrs. Boggs were her daughter, Mrs. Clyde J. Russell, also of Saline St., and Mrs. R. E. Patton, whose husband is distantly related to Mr. Tackett.

During Meeting Here

Band, Orchestra Group Names Its New Officers

New officers were approved when the East Liverpool Band and Orchestra Mothers met Tuesday night at Memorial Auditorium.

They include: Mrs. Norris Koerber, president; Mrs. Arthur Eddy and Mrs. Robert Bickar, vice presidents; Mrs. Jess Finley, treasurer, and Mrs. Lewis Stoddard, secretary. They will be installed at the May meeting.

The nominating committee included Mrs. George Welker, Mrs. William Frail and Mrs. Louis Krawiec.

—:—

DONALD ADAMS, band director, spoke briefly and announced that as the result of tryouts Mitchell Jones will be the head major for next term. James Cline will be drum minor; Karen Simpson, head majorette; Karen Jones, sergeant, and Linda Hamilton, Coleen Shafer, Mary Lisle, Marsha Merriman, Julie Tolson, Linda Haney, Cindy Standley, Debbie Eddy and Susan Popejoy, alternates.

The band will march in five parades during the next few months, beginning with Memorial Day.

There will be a percussion workshop today with an ensemble from Youngstown University taking part.

Adams also announced that the spring band concert will be April 28. He outlined activities for Band Camp. A question-and-answer period followed.

Named to the auditing committee were Mrs. Thelma Calhoon, Mrs. Margarette Hargreaves and Mrs. Ann Krawiec.

Mrs. Arnold McDowell announced that a new location will be needed for next year's band banquet - dance, since the present one is to be remodeled and will not be large enough.

Senior parents were reminded that money for this year's banquet on May 6 at the Country Club is now due. The group has been asked to serve at three banquets, May 27, May 29 and June 5.

—:—

THE MEETING was opened by Mrs. Thomas Snow, president, followed with devotions by Mrs. McDowell, who read the poem "A Thought For Every Day" from the book "Easter Ideas."

Reports were read by Mrs. Charles Martin, acting secretary, and Mrs. John Morgan, treasurer. Mrs. Snow reported that $676.74 was netted on tag day. Mrs. Martin was in charge of the jewelry sale, with $14 realized.

Past band mothers attending included Mrs. Charles Deshler, Mrs. Charles Waggoner, Mrs. Earl Locke, Mrs. Merl McSwegin, Mrs. Mary Smith, Mrs. Willis Standley and Mrs. Howard Claypool. Comments were given by each guest.

A social hour followed, with the table decorated with a yellow and white centerpiece flanked with yellow tapers. The social committee was in charge.

Dinner Planned For 'Citizens' At Ohioville Church

OHIOVILLE — A coverdish dinner will be held Monday for the Senior Citizens of the Four Mile United Presbyterian Church, Mrs. Donald Ewing, president of the Scott Bible Class, has announced.

The class will hold the dinner in honor of the fifth anniversary of the citizens Monday at 6:30 p. m. at the church. All Senior Citizens of the church are invited.

Plans are being made for a mother - daughter banquet May 12 at the church. The coverdish affair will begin at 6 p. m. All mothers are invited to attend.

Hostesses for a meeting last week were Mrs. Elizabeth Erath and Mrs. Brownie Kanapesky.

CP, Counseling Units Addressed By Akron Doctor

"Slow learners should be handled by structural discipline, and not by corporal punishment," Dr. G. Dean Timmons, pediatrician and neurologist of Akron Children's Hospital, declared as he spoke during the joint dinner meeting of the Child Counseling Center and Cerebral Palsy Association Tuesday night at St. Aloysius School hall.

Dr. Alex Fisher, a member of the Board of Directors, introduced the speaker.

Dr. Timmons also emphasized in helping a difficult child, where the central nervous system is involved, the first requirement is to identify the problem.

—:—

HE STATED that in the East Liverpool school system there are 280 students, neurologically handicapped, who are underachieving their potential, and that most children do not have difficulty until they reach school age.

"Once the parents, teacher, relatives and even the school principal recognize the organic problem, then they can relax," he said.

Dr. Timmons said that in the near future Ohio will have classes available for the blind and spastic child, who now experiences extreme difficulty.

He questioned the audience about resources we might be making available for those 16 and 20 who are neurologically involved.

"They do grow up and become adolescents and adults, and we have the responsibility to them then, as we did when they were pretty little blonde, blue - eyed 3-year-olds. Most communities are devoid of opportunities and yet our responsibilities to them are important," he continued.

In answering questions, the speaker stressed that a hyperactive child cannot shut out external stimuli as adults can. He explained that medication for the hyperactive school child has to be adjusted after a month, and there is no one medication that will slow down every child.

—:—

BEFORE introducing the speaker, Dr. Fisher reviewed the areas with which each clinic is concerned.

The welcome was given by Supt. Paul Blair, chairman of the Advisory Board, who introduced officers of both organizations.

Raymond Cole, first vice president of the Cerebral Palsy Group, gave the history and caseload of the center, and invited all interested persons to visit the facility.

Others recognized were Thayer Allison, president of Child Counseling; Mrs. Myer Alpern, vice president; Mrs. Paul A. Davis, secretary; Miss Elizabeth Coleman, treasurer, and Cornell Monda, psychologist.

For the CP Association, those introduced included Richard G. Brian, president; Raymond Cole, first vice president; Mrs. Fred Perkins, second vice president; John B. McDonald, secretary, and Mrs. J. Donald Thompson, treasurer.

The invocation was given by Fr. Christopher Lynch of the host church and the benediction by the Rev. D. Ross Salisbury Jr., rector of St. Stephen's Episcopal Church.

MUSIC WAS furnished by Miss Cathy Stover and Mrs. McDonald, with Mrs. Davis in charge of the table decorations, which featured a spring flower decor.

The guest table was centered with a large antique silver epergne arrangement of spring flowers with silver candelabra and yellow tapers. Miss Kathleen Potter and Miss Coleman were in charge of dinner reservations.

PTA Gets Set For Carnival

Michael Curran, chairman, outlined plans for the carnival April 29 when the Calcutta Parent - Teacher Association met Monday night at the school. Allen Dawson, president, presided.

Dinner will be served at 5. Features will include game rooms, spook room, talent show, cake walk and auction room. One-pound coffee cans are needed for the fish room, Dawson said. The theme is "Funtime Fiesta."

Officers were elected as follows:

Curran, president; Roland Pethel, vice president; Darlene Morris, secretary, and Marjorie Stefl, treasurer.

The organization donated $200 toward the Dollars for Scholars program and a like amount to Charlotte Stuttler, a senior at Beaver Local High School, to further her education upon graduation this term. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Finley Stuttler of Cannons Mills R. D. 1.

Dawson announced that Beaver Local Kindergarten will be held at the Calcutta School June 12-July 21 from 8:45 to 11 a. m. All materials and light lunches will be furnished free.

Registration day for children entering first grade at the Calcutta School will be Monday and April 28 from 9 a. m. to 2 p.m. in the all-purpose room. The child's birth certificate and immunization record is required. There will be no pre - school clinics this year, it was announced.

The first - graders presented the program entitled "The Animals in the Zoo" under the direction of Mrs. Lee Tice, Mrs. Donna McVay, Mrs. Helen Ward and Mrs. Marilyn Shipley. Mrs. Tice's homeroom won the attendance award and will be feted with an ice cream party.

Devotions were led by the Rev. George Miller of the Calcutta United Presbyterian Church.

The next meeting will be May 15. Officers will be installed and the Calcutta Children's Choir will present the program.

Aide Chosen For Beaver's College Staff

The Beaver County Community College has named Dr. S. Hartley Johnston as staff assistant to the president. He will develop and further refine the College of Liberal Arts and Science program.

Dr. Hartley is presently with the U. S. Office of Education at Washington, D. C.

August F. Turak was named assistant professor to the college and will work in the Business Education Department. He is presently Educational director at the Grace Martin School of Pittsburgh.

Elected as instructor in Business Administration was Joseph M. Murray, who is presently employed as registrar and instructor at the Grace Martin School.

Named as a building committee were William McComb, James Hood and Dr. Roy Adams. They will develop building plans and specifications with the administrative staff.

Dr. Louis Bender, director of the Community College Department of Instruction, will meet with trustees Monday to inspect various proposed sites.

Registration is now under way for the September term with about 200 persons enrolled now. Nearly 100 enrollees are in the practical nursing program.

Enrollment is being held at the Freedom offices with tuition at $150 a semester for each student and a similar amount from the sponsoring school district and state.

Honor Society Inducts 41 Students At ELHS

Forty-one East Liverpool High School students were inducted into the National Honor Society during the annual assembly Wednesday afternoon at Memorial Auditorium.

There were 39 juniors and two seniors. The junior members are Roger Aronson, Debbie Banfield, Sandra Barnett, Anthony Barbuto, Robert Bartram, Ruth Bradfield, Debbie Bryan, John Chan, Alexandra Cycyn, Jane Ann Delong, Darla Dingey, Debbie Emmerling, James Flora, Dorothy Haugh, Lysbeth Hocking, Frances Hoon, Bill Hopper, Mike Hughes, Dale Jones, Linda Jack, Suzanne Jackson, Karen Jones, Paula Kirchner, Richard Maley, Christie Morgan, Malcolm Ogilvie, Debbie Phillips, Mary Jo Richardson, Richard Rowley, Margaret Rush, Aileen Silverman, Karen Simpson, Jeanne Lou Smith, Pamela Smith, Nancy Sturgeon, Bridget Tobin, Dianna Toland, Susan Williams and Marvann Wooley.

The seniors are Gerri Barnett and Jerry Canne.

The guest speaker was Fred Worrell of North Canton, director of Community Schools in Stark County and sectional chairman on the governor's committee on vocational rehabilitation.

He is a graduate of Kent State University and a former associate director of the United Fund for Central Stark County.

Worrell was introduced by Jim Gooding, who also gave the roll call of new members. Ella Sue Bradfield and Tom Standley served as ushers for the new members.

Society members speaking were: Tom Ash, scholarship; Janice Betteridge, service; Mary Cartwright, leadership, and Gary Barringer, character.

Judy Sillence and Gooding were in charge of the lighting of the candles and Clifford Lynch, high school principal, gave the pledge and oath to the new members.

The stage band played. A reception followed in the First Church of Christ for all new and old members and the parents and advisers.

$165,000 Contract Let By Palestine Church

EAST PALESTINE — Bryan Spaite & Son, an East Palestine construction firm, was awarded a $165,000 contract Tuesday night to erect a 12-room educational wing at the Centenary Methodist Church.

The Spaite firm received the contract at a congregational meeting in which offers from four other concerns were studied. The contract includes a new heating system to serve both the old and new buildings.

Spaite said he will begin work in early May, anticipating the job will be finished in seven months. Sixty attended the church meeting. The congregation recently conducted a campaign to help finance the project.

Clarence Knisley, Ex-Treasurer Of Ohio, Dies At 69

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Clarence H. Knisley, state treasurer 1936-38 and a Democratic candidate for short term as state auditor last November, died of cancer Wednesday in a Columbus hospital.

Knisley, 69, a native of Bainbridge, Ross County, who made his home in Columbus, was secretary of the Public Utilities Commission of Ohio 1932-36.

Following his term as state treasurer, he was a member of the Industrial Commission of Ohio 1939-41.

More recently, his firm, Clarence H. Knisley and Associates, has been consultant to the Industrial Commission and the Bureau of Workmen's compensation.

Survivors include his widow, Mary; a son, Scott, of Columbus; a daughter, Mrs. James Stiverson, Columbus; sisters, Miss Kate Knisley and Mrs. Thelma Gragg, both of Bainbridge, Mrs. Virginia Robeson, Mount Vernon; brothers, Omar and George Knisley, both of Bainbridge, and six grandchildren.

Funeral services will be Friday at 2 p. m. in Bainbridge.

Bills Would Put Pennsylvania In Pollution Group

HARRISBURG (AP) — Identical bills to enable Pennsylvania to join the proposed Mid-Atlantic States Air Pollution Control Compact are before the House and Senate.

The Shafer Administration proposal was introduced in the House Tuesday and in the Senate Wednesday. Republicans have majorities in both chambers.

The proposed compact would provide for the control and abatement of air pollution in several states in the Northeast.

New York has passed the proposal. It is now before the New Jersey legislature. If New Jersey and then the federal government approve it, the compact would go into effect.

Several neighboring states then could join the compact if they wish. These include Pennsylvania, Delaware and Connecticut.

Missile 'Father' Dies

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: I have heard all the arguments against smoking which have to do with health. Here is something else to consider:

Research shows that nonsmoking office workers contribute from ¾ to 1¼ hours a day more working time than their smoking coworkers. More if they must run to the rest room to smoke.

Based on 2 an hour, 5 days a week, 20 days a month, every nonsmoker should be given an immediate $40 a month raise for the average 20 hours a month extra he puts in while the nicotine addicts search in their purses and pockets for cigarettes, light up, hunt for an ash tray, puff away, gaze, cough, brush the loose tobacco off their clothes and put out the small fires that start in the waste-baskets.

I, for one, would like to see that extra $40 a month added to my next paycheck. — WORKIN' NOT PUFFIN'.

-:-

Dear Workin': I'm for you, Bub, but don't spend the money yet. You'll have a hard time getting this one through — especially if your boss smokes.

Better Think Twice

Dear Ann: If you've heard this story once you've heard it a million times, but here it is again: I'm still in love with my high school sweetheart.

I married a man my mother thought would be a perfect husband. I admit he's very good to me and he's a wonderful father. In the 10 years we've been married, he's never been unkind.

But I realize now I should have married my true love and not listened to my mother. Although I've only seen my ex-sweetheart twice in the last 10 years (he lives in a neighboring town), I know I never shall get over loving him.

I'm not asking for advice because I'll never break up my marriage, but I wonder if you have some words of consolation for me? — SAD SAD SAD.

Dear Sad: You don't need consolation, you need to wake up and smell the coffee. The one who got away always looks better — especially if you see him twice in 10 years. Had you married your old flame, you'd probably be pining now for the man you did marry. My advice is to stop feeling sorry for yourself, Girl. It sounds as if you have a very good marriage there.

But No Thanks

Dear Ann: I was intrigued by the letter from the woman who wrote to express concern for what would happen to her children if she and her husband should die in an accident together.

Recently a woman I know socially (we are not close friends — in fact, I'm not particularly fond of her) took me aside at a party and said, "I think you would be flattered to know that my husband and I have decided that if anything happens to us, we have selected you and your husband to take our two sons."

I was so stunned I couldn't speak. Finally I managed to reply, "I'll have to discuss this with my husband."

He was not only shocked but annoyed. We never heard of such nerve. My husband asked me to call the woman and tell her we would not accept the responsibility. I refused on the grounds that I don't want to get involved with her.

Tell me, Ann, are we responsible for those children, if something should happen to that couple? Yes or No? — VVV.

-:-

Dear VVV: No.

Call the woman and explain that you and your husband appreciate the compliment but you are unable to accept the responsibility. That will settle it.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: I have heard all the arguments against smoking which have to do with health. Here is something else to consider:

Research shows that nonsmoking office workers contribute from ¾ to 1¼ hours a day more working time than their smoking coworkers. More if they must run to the rest room to smoke.

Based on 2 an hour, 5 days a week, 20 days a month, every nonsmoker should be given an immediate $40 a month raise for the average 20 hours a month extra he puts in while the nicotine addicts search in their purses and pockets for cigarettes, light up, hunt for an ash tray, puff away, gaze, cough, brush the loose tobacco off their clothes and put out the small fires that start in the waste-baskets.

I, for one, would like to see that extra $40 a month added to my next paycheck. — WORKIN' NOT PUFFIN'.

-:-

Dear Workin': I'm for you, Bub, but don't spend the money yet. You'll have a hard time getting this one through — especially if your boss smokes.

Better Think Twice

Dear Ann: If you've heard this story once you've heard it a million times, but here it is again: I'm still in love with my high school sweetheart.

I married a man my mother thought would be a perfect husband. I admit he's very good to me and he's a wonderful father. In the 10 years we've been married, he's never been unkind.

But I realize now I should have married my true love and not listened to my mother. Although I've only seen my ex-sweetheart twice in the last 10 years (he lives in a neighboring town), I know I never shall get over loving him.

I'm not asking for advice because I'll never break up my marriage, but I wonder if you have some words of consolation for me? — SAD SAD SAD.

Dear Sad: You don't need consolation, you need to wake up and smell the coffee. The one who got away always looks better — especially if you see him twice in 10 years.

Had you married your old flame, you'd probably be pining now for the man you did marry. My advice is to stop feeling sorry for yourself, Girl. It sounds as if you have a very good marriage there.

But No Thanks

Dear Ann: I was intrigued by the letter from the woman who wrote to express concern for what would happen to her children if she and her husband should die in an accident together.

Recently a woman I know socially (we are not close friends — in fact, I'm not particularly fond of her) took me aside at a party and said, "I think you would be flattered to know that my husband and I have decided that if anything happens to us, we have selected you and your husband to take our two sons."

I was so stunned I couldn't speak. Finally I managed to reply, "I'll have to discuss this with my husband."

He was not only shocked but annoyed. We never heard of such nerve. My husband asked me to call the woman and tell her we would not accept the responsibility. I refused on the grounds that I don't want to get involved with her.

Tell me, Ann, are we responsible for those children, if something should happen to that couple? Yes or No? — VVV.

-:-

Dear VVV: No.

Call the woman and explain that you and your husband appreciate the compliment but you are unable to accept the responsibility. That will settle it.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

4-H News

Dennis Pickering, president, conducted the monthly meeting of the Green Pines 4-H Club Monday at the Hancock County Children's home.

Nancy Brady led the 4-H pledge and Mary Ellen Holtzman led the pledge to the flag. Jimmy Duvall led singing of "West Virginia Boys and Girls."

Wanda Adams reported on old and unfinished business. Jackie Duvall was in charge of the program on "A Nation's Builders." Betty Holtzman led the 4-H creed. Jimmy Duvall led singing of "There's a Blue Sky Way Up Yonder." Roger Brady read the Scripture lesson.

The next meeting will be May 15 at the home.

Public Health Organization

League Selects Officers

LISBON — Mrs. Arthur Spatholt of Leetonia was elected president of the Columbiana County Public Health League during its 44th annual dinner meeting Wednesday in the Wick Hotel.

The first woman to head the County Tuberculosis Association, she succeeds Leo C. Lawrence of East Liverpool, who served three years.

The league elected six new directors:

Dr. Frank V. Apicella, radiologist at Salem City Hospital and Salem Central Clinic; the Rev. John R. Dryer of the Covenant United Presbyterian Church, Wellsville; Mrs. Alfreda Grappy of Columbiana; the Rev. Thomas Murphy of St. Philip Neri Catholic Church, Dungannon; Harry A. Poff, inhalation therapist at Salem City Hospital, and the Rev. E. C. Traylor of the First Christian Church, East Liverpool.

Dr. Elias T. Saadi and Dr. Michael Vuksta, both of St. Elizabeth's Hospital, Youngstown, presented a program on "Patients Who Can't Breathe."

—:—

THEY described the Youngstown breathing class — first in Ohio. They teach outpatients to use special exercises to improve breathing function and postural drainage techniques to clear their lungs and airways of obstructions.

Dr. Vuksta, director of surgical education at St. Elizabeth, discussed the progressive changes in lung structures which result in emphysema, chronic bronchitis, asthma and cancer.

Dr. Saadi discussed preventive measures and treatment of these diseases. He said 98 per cent of the emphysema patients he sees are or were heavy cigarette smokers. Dr. Saadi is director of the cardiopulmonary laboratory and cardiac catheterization at St. Elizabeth.

Lillian R. Schroeder, executive director of the league, noted in her annual report that the diagnosis of obstructive lung disease by computer will add an "exciting plus" to selected 70 mm. chest X-ray programs of the future.

Through the efforts of Dr. Peter R. Cibula of Lisbon and Dr. Apicella, she said, the Columbiana County Medical Society recommended that the Health League make plans to utilize the Ohio Department of Health respiratory disease screening program as developed and equipped by the U. S. Public Health Service in each of the five health districts — the four city districts and the general health district.

charm bracelets to three women who have served a combined total of 45 years as Christmas Seal chairmen in four western townships.

They are Mrs. John Lindesmith, Hanover Township, 23 years; Mrs. Donald Stafford, West Township, seven years, and Mrs. Roy Thornton, Butler and Knox Townships, 15 years.

The four townships have been designated the "western area" and Christmas seal monies will be channeled into the area bank — the Hanoverton branch of the Farmers National Bank of Salem.

A pearl necklace was presented Mrs. Willis Toland of Lisbon, "volunteer of the year," for her assistance in the league office on N. Market St.

Lawrence welcomed the 50 members and guests. Reports were given by George L. Lafferty of Lisbon, secretary; C. R. McKenzie of Lisbon, treasurer, and Mrs. Walter Miller of Columbiana, chairman of the nominating committee.

Other officers are Malcolm W. Thompson of East Liverpool, first vice president; Mrs. James Degnan of Leetonia, second vice president; Mark Klingensmith of Columbiana, third vice president; Donald Elliott of Rogers, representative director, and E. S. Kerr of Salem, alternate representative director.

Lawrence reported the Christmas Seal sales campaign totaled $32,500, or $2,000 over the goal, with all the townships exceeding their quotas. The East Liverpool area showed the greatest increase, he said.

Miss Schroeder said 7,286 were served on the Christmas Seal X-ray cruiser last year in general public surveys in East Liverpool, St. Clair shopping plaza, Wellsville, Lisbon, Salem, Columbiana and East Palestine, and an industrial survey in Salem.

Rogers Resident Completes Visit

ROGERS — Mrs. Ruth Cope returned home Sunday from a week's visit with Miss Agnes Cope and Miss Betty Stephen of Lakewood.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hampson were Sunday guests of Mrs. Lulu Hays of Lisbon.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Hall and family and Mr. and Mrs. Dean Gordon and family of Salem were Sunday guests of Mrs. Maine Hall.

Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Weltner of Akron and Mr. and Mrs. Albert Morris of Salem were Sunday afternoon visitors of Mrs. Ruth Cope and Harry Morris.

Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Rudibaugh of Niles were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Wright.

Mrs. Sylvia Raley was a dinner guest Monday of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Shafer of East Liverpool.

Judging Due For Exhibits

LISBON — The Board of Supervisors of the Columbiana Soil and Water Conservation District invites the public to view students' exhibits on conservation and natural resources Friday night in the SWCD office at 41 N. Park Ave. on the Square.

High school students throughout the county have been invited to display their science fair exhibits on these particular subjects. The show will begin at 8:30.

Paul Zehentbauer of Hanoverton, chairman of the board's education committee, will present plaques to first- and second-place winners.

Judges will be Paul Gipp of Salem, Production Credit Corp.; Paul Livezey of Minerva, Federal Land Bank, and James Clendening of Kensington, vocational agriculture teacher at United High School.

The winner will be eligible for the 15-county sub-area contest July 6 at Toronto in Jefferson County.

Glenmoor Legion Names Youth For Boys State Event

Mike Tychonievich of Rogers R. D. 1 was chosen to attend the American Legion Buckeye Boys State in June at Ohio University during a meeting of American Legion Post 736 at Glenmoor Tuesday, with Jay Mathess, commander, in charge.

Tychonievich is a student at Beaver Local High School.

Nicholas H. Schuck and Ralph T. DeLong were accepted as new members.

Roland Webber, chairman for a Cancer Fund traffic solicitation held April 8, said $254 had been received.

Fifteen members attended.

Mathess announced that first nomination for 1967-68 officers will be held May 2, with the election May 16. The next meeting will be May 2 at 7:30 p.m. at the post home.

"There isn't a better intermediate size car sold in the United States than the 1967 Rebel" says Tom McCahill, automobile expert for Mechanix Illustrated.

Tom McCahill evaluates the automobile industry for Mechanix Illustrated. Recently, he took out an SST hardtop equipped with a 343 cu. in. Typhoon V-8 for an exhaustive series of road tests. How did our Excitement Machine perform?

"In roadability and performance, it would top most of the newer specialty cars. There's absolutely no plowing and little body roll. The whole feel of the car, when going over ruts or across dirt roads, is excellent."

What about comfort? "It's extremely comfortable and relaxing to drive. In straight-line driving the SST is as comfortable as the Jell-O specials."

How about Rebel's new four-link rear suspension?

"Of all the new sporty-type cars, as they come from the showroom, Rebel has by far the best and safest suspension of the whole kit and caboodle."

And the looks? "As sharp in appearance as a thousand-dollar bill. And from a cost angle, Rebel's not overpriced."

This is your kind of excitement, created by American Motors. A company that has created an entire line of six-passenger Excitement Machines that give you more excitement for the money.

See your American Motors/Rambler Dealer. He'll convince you the 1967 Rebel is the best intermediate built in the country today. Then do what Tom McCahill did. Take a test-drive.

Scouts To Seek $38,000 In Drive

LISBON — Volunteers of Columbiana Council, Inc., Boy Scouts of America, will begin a campaign this week for $38,000 for 1967 operations.

Boy Scouts units — Cub Packs, Scout troops or Explorer posts— are located in 21 communites in Columbiana County, plus Chester, Lawrenceville and Newell, W. Va. There will be approximately 100 units this year, with 3,700 boys enrolled.

Walter F. Deming of Salem, the council's finance committee chairman, said the money will come from three sources:

Community chests or United Fund allocations,which provide about 40 per cent of the Scouts' income; limited sustaining memberships within the fund areas, and sustaining memberships outside the fund areas.

SUSTAINING memberships come in three classifications — associate, $10 to $24; special, $25 to $99, and Century Club, $100 and over.

Deming said volunteers also will invite industries and organizations to finance projects in the area of camp facilities, leadership training and office equipment.

The fund campaign must be completed before the end of May, Deming said, because the summer camping program begins in June.

The council obtained $40,143 for 1966 operations, but spent $44,498. The $50,948 budget for 1967 includes $2,500 to be paid on the $5,000 borrowed to cover last year's deficit.

Among services provided by the council through headquarters at Lisbon are the summer camp program, camp facilities at Camp McKinley near Lisbon and Camp Twin Spruce at Leesville Lake, Scout service center, camporees, polar bear camp and camporals, professional help and guidance, leadership training program, field service, periodicals and visitation, service awards, Eagle badges and ceremonials, advancement materials, program calendars and access to training films and national activities such as the Philmont Scout ranch and national and world jamborees.

AN ANALYSIS of the 1967 budget shows::

Salaries (headquarters staff, eight persons), $30,866; retirement and social security, $3,298; rent, lights and phone, $1,914; office supplies,$1,250; postage and express, $800; field expense, $3,600 ; public relations, $100; camp operations, $2,820; leadership training, $1,000; national quota, $650; activities, $100; campaign expense, $200; loan repayment, $2,500; insurance, $1,100; personnel replacement, $600, and advancement, $150.

Workers have attended training sessions with Allan White of Columbiana, training chairman, and are equipped with kits for their calls.

George Bowman of Salem is chairman for sustaining membership enrollment.

Judge Louis Tobin of East Liverpool will serve as general chairman for the Cherokee District — the southern half of Columbiana County, plus Chester and Newell.

James Gibbs of Salem will head the effort in the Shawnee District — the northern half of the county — with Richard Speidel of Hanoverton and Robert Nash of East Palestine as assistants.

JUDGE TOBIN announces the following community chairmen:

William Bush, Wellsville, assisted by William Shoub, Fred Huston, Tom Piatt and Marvin Hall; Jack Pozenel, West Point, assisted by volunteer firemen; Freeman Strabley, Salineville, and the Salineville Ruritan Club, and Robert Carter of Summitville. These drives will begin today.

Shawnee district communities follow, with chairmen:

Salem, James Wilson; Columbiana, Robert Maurer; Lisbon, William Haifley and Graham Kearney; East Palestine, Robert Cole; Leetonia, Dave Patterson; New Waterford, Joe Fittante; Hanoverton, Ferrell Lowe; Negley, Ray Dyke; Winona, Robert Brantingham, and Homeworth and North Georgetown, Ford McQuilkin.

Deming assigned Francis H. Lang of East Liverpool as chairman of the Century Club memberships and Richard Emmerling, also of East Liverpool, to head "project selling" to industries and organizations.

'Kickoff' Dinner Set Saturday By Masonic Groups

East Liverpool York Rite bodies will hold a "kickoff" dinner Saturday at 6:15 p.m. at the Masonic Temple in preparation for spring reunions.

Candidates and their wives and wives of members will be among the guests.

William H. Lowe, commander of Pilgrim Commandery 55, Knights Templar, will be toastmaster. Movies on the northwestern U.S. will be shown by H. Jud English of the Columbiana County Motor Club.

York Rite reunion dates include April 26 and 27, when East Liverpool Chapter 100, Royal Arch Masons, will confer degrees; May 1, when Keramos Council 95, Royal and Select Masters will confer degrees, and May 5 and 6, when Pilgrim Commandery will confer orders.

Will Present Paper

COLUMBIANA — John P. Harley, a graduate assistant at Kent State University, will present a paper during the Ohio Academy of Science meeting in Dayton Friday. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Harley of R. D. 1 and a graduate of Columbiana High School.

5 County Residents On O.U. Dean's List

Five students from Columbiana County have been named to the dean's list for the first semester of the 1966-67 school year at Ohio University, Athens.

They are David W. Brick of Williams Ave., East Liverpool; Herman Ziegler of Hanoverton; Jack E. Hernstrom and Amy Jane Himmelspach, both of Salem, and Sandra J. Reese of Oakdale Ave., Wellsville.

Ex-Police Official Indicted On 2 Counts

PITTSBURGH (AP) — An Allegheny County grand jury has returned bribery and extortion indictments against former Pittsburgh assistant police superintendent Lawrence J. Maloney, central figure in an alleged numbers racket payoff scheme.

Maloney, a former patrolman, three inspectors and three lieutenants are also awaiting grand jury action on charges of conspiracy to extort.

Another police inspector has been suspended and two lieutenants threatened with trial board action.

No trial date was set.

Out Of The Air

By JOHN HORN

Change In Sales Pitch?

No doubt about it, moves have started in the direction of changing television commercials.

Not in the multiplication of the blurbs, which got a cold shoulder at the National Association of Broadcasters meeting in Chicago last week when NBC bruited about its proposal of upping the ad breaks in movies from 14 to 16.

The coming transition appears to be in the length and placement of the messages between TV entertainment.

THE HEAD of the Ted Bates advertising agency, for instance, foresees the coupling of two 90-second commercials or a three-minute commercial to take the place soon of three one-minute ads in a prime-time half hour.

This would ease the general complaint of viewers of too many interruptions, if not too many commercials.

Bell Telephone has been experimenting with an hour of music with no interruptions, to the pleasant tune of viewer approval. Ford is considering a 10-minute commercial that would be the only advertising to accompany a 2½-hour movie.

In recent years, ad agencies have turned more and more to humor and story in the presentation of their clients' products. But now there is more talk of clustering the sales pitches, a la Italian commercials.

-:-

THE COMMERCIALS in the "World Theater" series of a few seasons ago — which were long and interesting enough to be considered brief documentaties on international oil plants—are now being recalled in nostalgic admiration.

The point is that almost everyone is now talking about what only viewers had talked about before: too many pauses that didn't refresh between the acts of television entertainment.

Networks, stations, advertisers and agencies are concerned now, too. Annoy the public enough and it will be clamoring for pay TV.

And the public has been annoyed. A recent Roper survey revealed a whopping percentage of Americans (80 per cent) think TV commercials are too many and too much.

THE GENERAL industry feeling is that significant commercial changes will be made in the June gathering of the NAB television board, based on the recommendations of the code-board meeting May 17-18.

The tug-of-war basically will be between the desire for more revenues and the fear of snapping audience patience. Concerned spokesmen for the ad-badgered audience are currently more numerous and articulate.

-:-

CHET HUNTLEY yet may run for the Senate. He was unofficially proposed recently by Sen. Mike Mansfield, who would like a fellow Montanan like David Brinkley's NBC-TV news partner to run in 1971, when Mansfield intends to retire.

Asked about it, Huntley didn't say no.

It's recalled that the late Edward R. Murrow, before he moved to the United States Information Agency, was boomed in a trial balloon for New York senator. The balloon burst quickly.

Murrow, by the way, will have a street named for him in his native Greensboro, N. C. Murrow lived only four years there before his family moved on to Blanchard, Wash.

-:-

BARBRA Streisand will make a rare guest appearance on the Ed Sullivan show May 14. The 24-year-old songbird will have finished taping her fall CBS-TV special, "Belle of 14th Street," by then and will be in rehearsal for the film version of "Funny Girl," in which she starred on Broadway.

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruso —

Dear Heloise: I am a retired florist and would like to give some tips to your housewives who grow their own flowers.

Cut flowers last longer if all the leaves are removed from any stem that is under the water. The leaves sap up the power of life in a cut flower. The main point is to get water to the bud itself.

If you have no proper frog or form, the extra leaves and sprigs may be tucked into the flower container. Often, sprigs of foliage with leaves still attached (such as stems from hedges) may be tucked down into a deep vase and used as a perfect flower arrangement.

For some types of flowers, such as marigolds, a few drops of household bleach, added to the water before placing the flowers in, helps to keep the stench down.

And more power to you, Heloise. My wife absolutely loves you.

LARRY SOLSBERG.

-:-

And thanks to you, sir. You sure made my day flowery!

HELOISE.

-:-

DEAR HELOISE: Know those tiny jars with twist caps that are sometimes so hard to open?

Try releasing the vacuum by punching a hole in the top with a V-type bottle opener . . . makes all the difference in the world.

This is especially good if it's a tiny jar of something you will use immediately.

AGAIN.

DEAR HELOISE: I've found another use for Heloise nylon net . . . as a kitchen sink mat to keep the porcelain finish from getting those horrible marks from aluminum, etc.

I made a net pad for the bottom of my sink by using four thicknesses of nylon net and cutting a pattern to fit the bottom of the sink.

Then I stitched these together around the edges and sewed a big "X" through the center with my sewing machine.

I then cut a circle out of the center over the drain and stitched around that.

The little circle I cut out of the center I used in my soap tray to put my bar of soap on.

If you have a double sink, make a net pad for at least one side. This will be interchangeable.

O.B.

LETTER OF LAUGHTER

DEAR HELOISE: Every time I burn a pot or pan (I am bad about that) I tell my family that I am testing for you. . .

At least it brings a laugh.

ELNORA.

DEAR HELOISE: I find if you use elastic thread to hem skirts or dresses made of this new stretchable material, it won't break when you walk or kick.

Don't stretch the thread as you sew . . . just sew it loosely.

MRS. WILKINS.

DEAR HELOISE: My daughter was recently confined to her bed with a nasty cold.

After the first hour, used facial tissues were all over the bed and floor. I knew this would not do.

I took one of the plastic bags that my husband's laundered shirts came in and pinned it to the box of tissue. This way she had the tissue dispenser and a convenient place to deposit each tissue after using.

Also, she could carry both containers with her when she left her bed, and when I discarded the used tissue it was much more sanitary.

J.R.W.

DEAR HELOISE: When I addressed my wedding invitations I also addressed all the envelopes to my thank-you notes. I put them in alphabetical order and set them aside until after our honeymoon.

This sure saved me a lot of time and extra address hunting when I thanked all our friends for our wonderful wedding gifts.

LINDA.

This might save some other bride-to-be many precious hours as she gets her home in order and cooks her first meals.

Linda, best wishes to you and thanks for the thoughtful idea.

HELOISE.

Bids For Center Top Estimates

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Low bids on the new historical center adjoining the Ohio Exposition Center (state fairgrounds) have exceeded architects' estimates by $891,413, it was reported Wednesday.

Bids totaled $8,172,271, with the general building contract low bid coming from Penker Construction Co., Cincinnati, at $5,030,000, or $1 million over the estimate. The architect is Byron Ireland & Associates.

Carl E. Bentz, state architect, said the bids are to be analyzed and plans reviewed to see if cost can be held within available funds.

The historical center would hold the Ohio Museum, State Archives and Library operated by the Ohio Historical Society, as well as a historic Ohio Village of the pre-Civil War era.

Bentz said the bids, which exceeded estimates by about 10 per cent, are typical of those now being received for public buildings.

Anniversary Marked By 'CB' Radio Group

Prizes were awarded during an open house at the Penova Citizens Band Radio Club House Saturday night in observance of its fifth anniversary.

Mrs. Molly Kazee of Wellsville and Edward Pettigrew of Yuma, Ariz., were among the recipients.

Visitors included Jerry Tipton, president; Wendell Kazee, vice president, and Dave Jarvis, trustee, of Chapter 6 of the UCBRA.

The U.S. Department of Justice was created Sept. 24, 1789.

The grizzly bear has practically disappeared from most of the United States and remains only in a few areas, such as Yellowstone National Park.

Change In Sales Pitch?

No doubt about it, moves have started in the direction of changing television commercials.

Not in the multiplication of the blurbs, which got a cold shoulder at the National Association of Broadcasters meeting in Chicago last week when NBC bruited about its proposal of upping the ad breaks in movies from 14 to 16.

The coming transition appears to be in the length and placement of the messages between TV entertainment.

THE HEAD of the Ted Bates advertising agency, for instance, foresees the coupling of two 90-second commercials or a three-minute commercial to take the place soon of three one-minute ads in a prime-time half hour.

This would ease the general complaint of viewers of too many interruptions, if not too many commercials.

Bell Telephone has been experimenting with an hour of music with no interruptions, to the pleasant tune of viewer approval. Ford is considering a 10-minute commercial that would be the only advertising to accompany a 2½-hour movie.

In recent years, ad agencies have turned more and more to humor and story in the presentation of their clients' products. But now there is more talk of clustering the sales pitches, a la Italian commercials.

THE COMMERCIALS in the "World Theater" series of a few seasons ago — which were long and interesting enough to be considered brief documentaties on international oil plants—are now being recalled in nostalgic admiration.

The point is that almost everyone is now talking about what only viewers had talked about before: too many pauses that didn't refresh between the acts of television entertainment.

Networks, stations, advertisers and agencies are concerned now, too. Annoy the public enough and it will be clamoring for pay TV.

And the public has been annoyed. A recent Roper survey revealed a whopping percentage of Americans (80 per cent) think TV commercials are too many and too much.

THE GENERAL industry feeling is that significant commercial changes will be made in the June gathering of the NAB television board, based on the recommendations of the code-board meeting May 17-18.

The tug-of-war basically will be between the desire for more revenues and the fear of snapping audience patience. Concerned spokesmen for the ad-badgered audience are currently more numerous and articulate.

-:-

CHET HUNTLEY yet may run for the Senate. He was unofficially proposed recently by Sen. Mike Mansfield, who would like a fellow Montanan like David Brinkley's NBC-TV news partner to run in 1971, when Mansfield intends to retire.

Asked about it, Huntley didn't say no.

It's recalled that the late Edward R. Murrow, before he moved to the United States Information Agency, was boomed in a trial balloon for New York senator. The balloon burst quickly.

Murrow, by the way, will have a street named for him in his native Greensboro, N. C. Murrow lived only four years there before his family moved on to Blanchard, Wash.

-:-

BARBRA Streisand will make a rare guest appearance on the Ed Sullivan show May 14. The 24-year-old songbird will have finished taping her fall CBS-TV special, "Belle of 14th Street," by then and will be in rehearsal for the film version of "Funny Girl," in which she starred on Broadway.

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruse —

Dear Heloise: I am a retired florist and would like to give some tips to your housewives who grow their own flowers.

Cut flowers last longer if all the leaves are removed from any stem that is under the water. The leaves sap up the power of life in a cut flower. The main point is to get water to the bud itself.

If you have no proper frog or form, the extra leaves and sprigs may be tucked into the flower container. Often, sprigs of foliage with leaves still attached (such as stems from hedges) may be tucked down into a deep vase and used as a perfect flower arrangement.

For some types of flowers, such as marigolds, a few drops of household bleach, added to the water before placing the flowers in, helps to keep the stench down.

And more power to you, Heloise. My wife absolutely loves you.

LARRY SOLSBERG.

And thanks to you, sir. You sure made my day flowery!
HELOISE.

-:-

DEAR HELOISE: Know those tiny jars with twist caps that are sometimes so hard to open?

Try releasing the vacuum by punching a hole in the top with a V-type bottle opener . . . makes all the difference in the world.

This is especially good if it's a tiny jar of something you will use immediately.

AGAIN.

DEAR HELOISE: I've found another use for Heloise nylon net . . . as a kitchen sink mat to keep the porcelain finish from getting those horrible marks from aluminum, etc.

I made a net pad for the bottom of my sink by using four thicknesses of nylon net and cutting a pattern to fit the bottom of the sink.

Then I stitched these together around the edges and sewed a big "X" through the center with my sewing machine.

I then cut a circle out of the center over the drain and stitched around that.

The little circle I cut out of the center I used in my soap tray to put my bar of soap on.

If you have a double sink, make a net pad for at least one side. This will be interchangeable.

O.B.

LETTER OF LAUGHTER

DEAR HELOISE: Every time I burn a pot or pan (I am bad about that) I tell my family that I am testing for you. . .

At least it brings a laugh.

ELNORA.

DEAR HELOISE: I find if you use elastic thread to hem skirts or dresses made of this new stretchable material, it won't break when you walk or kick.

Don't stretch the thread as you sew . . . just sew it loosely.

MRS. WILKINS.

DEAR HELOISE: My daughter was recently confined to her bed with a nasty cold.

After the first hour, used facial tissues were all over the bed and floor. I knew this would not do.

I took one of the plastic bags that my husband's laundered shirts came in and pinned it to the box of tissue. This way she had the tissue dispenser and a convenient place to deposit each tissue after using.

Also, she could carry both containers with her when she left her bed, and when I discarded the used tissue it was much more sanitary.

J.R.W.

DEAR HELOISE: When I addressed my wedding invitations I also addressed all the envelopes to my thank-you notes. I put them in alphabetical order and set them aside until after our honeymoon.

This sure saved me a lot of time and extra address hunting when I thanked all our friends for our wonderful wedding gifts.

LINDA.

This might save some other bride-to-be many precious hours as she gets her home in order and cooks her first meals.

Linda, best wishes to you and thanks for the thoughtful idea.

HELOISE.

Bids For Center Top Estimates

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Low bids on the new historical center adjoining the Ohio Exposition Center (state fairgrounds) have exceeded architects' estimates by $891,413, it was reported Wednesday.

Bids totaled $8,172,271, with the general building contract low bid coming from Penker Construction Co., Cincinnati, at $5,030,000, or $1 million over the estimate. The architect is Byron Ireland & Associates.

Carl E. Bentz, state architect, said the bids are to be analyzed and plans reviewed to see if cost can be held within available funds.

The historical center would hold the Ohio Museum, State Archives and Library operated by the Ohio Historical Society, as well as a historic Ohio Village of the pre-Civil War era.

Bentz said the bids, which exceeded estimates by about 10 per cent, are typical of those now being received for public buildings.

Anniversary Marked By 'CB' Radio Group

Prizes were awarded during an open house at the Penova Citizens Band Radio Club House Saturday night in observance of its fifth anniversary.

Mrs. Molly Kazee of Wellsville and Edward Pettigrew of Yuma, Ariz., were among the recipients.

Visitors included Jerry Tipton, president; Wendell Kazee, vice president, and Dave Jarvis, trustee, of Chapter 6 of the UCBRA.

The U.S. Department of Justice was created Sept. 24, 1789.

The grizzly bear has practically disappeared from most of the United States and remains only in a few areas, such as Yellowstone National Park.

Falls Vote Short In Committee

Bill To Control Racial Riots In Ohio Hits Snag

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—An emergency bill designed to help control racial riots in Cleveland and other Ohio cities has hit a snag in the Senate Judiciary Committee.

Sponsors of the bill to outlaw so-called firebombs and possession of materials used to make them fell one vote short of committee approval Wednesday but the measure was kept alive due to the absence of one member.

The vote was 4-3 with five needed for passage by the eight-member committee. Sen. Howard C. Cook R-1 Toledo, Lucas, whose vote would have decided the issue, was absent. Chairman Max Dennis R-10 Clinton said he would call later for another vote.

The House-passed measure by Rep. George V. Voinovich R-53 Cleveland, Cuyahoga, would make it a felony punishable by 1-5 years in prison to make or distribute firebombs or possess materials used to make them.

Cleveland police and others testified before the committee that the bill is needed to help combat rioting and burning in potentially explosive and racially troubled neighborhoods.

Objections to the bill have centered around the provision banning possession of materials described simply as a bottle of gasoline, a rag and a match. Opponents rejected as insufficient an assurance by backers that courts would have to prove intent before convicting a person for possession.

Dennis' committee completed hearings Wednesday on a proposed constitutional amendment that would outlaw the death penalty in Ohio. The chairman declined to say when or if the proposal will be called to a committee vote but did say he was watching with interest a House bill which also would outlaw capital punishment.
capital punishment.

Each House passed three bills Wednesday and 16 new measures were introduced. One by Sen. Harry Armstrong R-17 Hocking would require licensing concessionaires at the State Fair and independent fairs and outlaw sale of liquor, gambling and "immoral" shows at such expositions.

The Senate passed 27-3 a bill which would permit retired teachers to work as substitute teachers 100 days a year instead of the present 59 days without loss of retirement benefits.

Opponents sought unsuccessfully to amend the measure to prevent principals from calling in retired teachers until they have exhausted their lists of nonretired substitutes.

The upper chamber also passed and sent to the House measures allowing attorneys for both sides to examine a court's written jury charge before closing arguments and to permit an exchange of two tracts of Lawrence County land between the Rock Hill School District and the U.S. Forest Service.

The House voted 66-24 to permit restoration of limited driving privileges of persons under 21 whose licenses have been revoked. But the bill stipulates that judges may act only in hardship cases.

By an 89-0 vote, the House passed and sent to the Senate a measure toughening the penalty for violation of state food service laws. It would increase the maximum penalty from $10 to $200 a day for each day the violation continues.

All but Armstrong's bill on state and independent fairs were introduced in the lower chamber. Among new proposals were measures that would require safety equipment on rental boats, require flashing speed limit signs in school zones along state highways, and cancel all state permits to dump untreated wastes into streams after Jan. 1, 1969.

Rep. Howard A. Knight R-13 Sandusky proposed in another bill to permit school teachers to determine by secret ballot the organization they want to represent them in negotiations with school boards, provided the election is called for in petitions signed by 30 per cent of the teachers in the district.

It's best to use the exact ingredients called for in cake recipes; for example, butter and shortening cannot always be successfully switched in these rules. To be on the safe side, when butter is called for in a cake formula, use butter; when shortening is recommended, use shortening.

WHEN THE GOING GETS TOUGH

Look to the Lad Who Has Newspaperboy Experience

Life has few built-in safeguards. No one can guarantee a boy a happy, successful and meaningful future. A great deal depends upon conditions. And society is constantly changing. Yet, in spite of all this, there is a strong element of certainty for the boy who prepares himself well.

The boy who has a broad education. The boy who has learned how to get along with people in a wide variety of situations. The boy who has a well-rounded personality . . . . This is the boy who is likely to succeed, no matter what the circumstances.

Your son can learn — and learn well — the most basic elements of success, as a newspaperboy. The chances of his attaining worthwhile objectives in life are greatly increased because of this splendid, practical training.

When the going gets tough, look to the boy who has newspaperboy experience.

Falls Vote Short In Committee

Bill To Control Racial Riots In Ohio Hits Snag

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—An emergency bill designed to help control racial riots in Cleveland and other Ohio cities has hit a snag in the Senate Judiciary Committee.

Sponsors of the bill to outlaw so-called firebombs and possession of materials used to make them fell one vote short of committee approval Wednesday but the measure was kept alive due to the absence of one member.

The vote was 4-3 with five needed for passage by the eight-member committee. Sen. Howard C. Cook R-1 Toledo, Lucas, whose vote would have decided the issue, was absent. Chairman Max Dennis R-10 Clinton said he would call later for another vote.

The House-passed measure by Rep. George V. Voinovich R-53 Cleveland, Cuyahoga, would make it a felony punishable by 1-5 years in prison to make or distribute firebombs or possess materials used to make them.

Cleveland police and others testified before the committee that the bill is needed to help combat rioting and burning in potentially explosive and racially troubled neighborhoods.

Objections to the bill have centered around the provision banning possession of materials described simply as a bottle of gasoline, a rag and a match. Opponents rejected as insufficient an assurance by backers that courts would have to prove intent before convicting a person for possession.

Dennis' committee completed hearings Wednesday on a proposed constitutional amendment that would outlaw the death penalty in Ohio. The chairman declined to say when or if the proposal will be called to a committee vote but did say he was watching with interest a House bill which also would outlaw capital punishment. capital punishment.

Each House passed three bills Wednesday and 16 new measures were introduced. One by Sen. Harry Armstrong R-17 Hocking would require licensing concessionaires at the State Fair and independent fairs and outlaw sale of liquor, gambling and "immoral" shows at such expositions.

The Senate passed 27-3 a bill which would permit retired teachers to work as substitute teachers 100 days a year instead of the present 59 days without loss of retirement benefits.

Opponents sought unsuccessfully to amend the measure to prevent principals from calling in retired teachers until they have exhausted their lists of nonretired substitutes.

The upper chamber also passed and sent to the House measures allowing attorneys for both sides to examine a court's written jury charge before closing arguments and to permit an exchange of two tracts of Lawrence County land between the Rock Hill School District and the U.S. Forest Service.

The House voted 66-24 to permit restoration of limited driving privileges of persons under 21 whose licenses have been revoked. But the bill stipulates that judges may act only in hardship cases.

By an 89-0 vote, the House passed and sent to the Senate a measure toughening the penalty for violation of state food service laws. It would increase the maximum penalty from $10 to $200 a day for each day the violation continues.

All but Armstrong's bill on state and independent fairs were introduced in the lower chamber. Among new proposals were measures that would require safety equipment on rental boats, require flashing speed limit signs in school zones along state highways, and cancel all state permits to dump untreated wastes into streams after Jan. 1, 1969.

Rep. Howard A. Knight R-13 Sandusky proposed in another bill to permit school teachers to determine by secret ballot the organization they want to represent them in negotiations with school boards, provided the election is called for in petitions signed by 30 per cent of the teachers in the district.

It's best to use the exact ingredients called for in cake recipes; for example, butter and shortening cannot always be successfully switched in these rules. To be on the safe side, when butter is called for in a cake formula, use butter; when shortening is recommended, use shortening.

Yanks Back In First After Shutout By Veteran Ford

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

There was an old combination back at work in the American League standings today.

The New York Yankees were in first place again, put there on a shutout by slick Whitey Ford.

It's been 2½ years — if you don't count opening day when nobody else played — since the Yankees had nine teams below them.

Last season, when they finished 10th, the Yanks never when the victims were, ironically, the White Sox and Wednesday's loser, Tommy John.

When he retired the last man, Ford, attempting a comeback after his second shoulder operation, jumped off the mound in joy. It was like those pictures of made it over the .500 mark and Ford, plagued with a circulatory problem in his left shoulder, managed just two victories.

But he was the oldtime Whitey against the Chicago White Sox Wednesday, allowing just seven singles for a 3-0 victory. It was his 45th career shutout and his first since Aug. 5, 1965, pitchers who've just won World Series games. You remember World Series games. Ford used to work in them in the good old days.

Elsewhere in the American League Wednesday, rookie Rod Carew drove in the winning run with a ninth-inning single as Minnesota and Dean Chance defeated Baltimore 3-2. Three home runs powered Cleveland to a 4-1 victory over Kansas City. Washington's doubleheader at Boston was rained out.

Ford was delighted with his performance. "It's been a long time hasn't it?" he said, grinning.

The ace left-hander, who ran into Boston rookie Bill Rohr's one-hitter in his first start this season, said he was bothered somewhat by Chicago's 49 degree temperature.

"My fingers began to feel the cold after six innings and I couldn't use my breaking stuff. I went mostly to the fast ball and the sinker."

The Yankees picked up a run off John in the second on Charley Smith's single, two walks and a sacrifice fly by John Kennedy. Smith's sacrifice fly and a single by Joe Pepitone drove in two more in the third following an error by Chicago's Tom McCraw.

The Twins knocked off the Orioles with a strong pitching performance by Chance, who allowed just five hits and struck out 10.

Carew, a rookie second baseman, broke the game up with a one-out, bases - loaded single against Stu Miller in the ninth. The hit scored Ted Uhlaender, running for Harmon Killebrew, who had opened the inning with a single. Killebrew also hit his first homer of the year earlier in the game.

Max Alvis, Duke Sims and Chuck Hinton all hit home runs for the Indians against Kansas City and Sonny Siebert, with late-inning help from Bob Allen, picked up his first victory.

Ken Suarez, Kansas City's catcher, homered for the A's, threw out three runners trying to steal and picked another off base.

If Hank Aaron has a hard time breaking the old home run habit, he'll have no trouble keeping his new friends.

The Atlanta slugger, who led the National League with 44 home runs last year but dipped to a .279 batting mark — lowest in his career — blasted a pair of homers Wednesday night, powering the torrid Braves to a 4-1 victory over Houston.

"I'm going back to my old style of hitting, to get a better batting average," the .316 lifetime hitter said before signing a two-year contract last winter at $100,000 per-season. "I wasn't too concerned about batting for an average last year because I had made up my mind to lead the league in homers."

"Theres no better way of making friends when you move into new territory than hitting the ball over the fence," Aaron added, explaining he went for the long ball in 1966 to help boost fan interest during the Braves' first year at Atlanta.

Aaron didn't disappoint the Atlanta backers Wednesday night. He slammed a 405-foot, bases-empty drive over the center field fence in the first inning and hammered a 420-foot solo shot into the left field seats in the fourth.

The 33-year-old outfielder's first two 1967 homers lifted his career total to 444, No. 10 on the all-time list, while sending his early-season batting average up to .321.

The homers also provided the winning margin as the Braves rolled to their fifth straight victory after an opening string of three losses.

St. Louis' streaking Cardinals overpowered San Francisco 7-5 for their sixth victory in six starts and the Los Angeles Dodgers edged Cincinnati 3-2 on Ron Hunt's run-scoring double in the 10th. The Pittsburgh-Philadelphia game was rained out.

Dave Giusti, Houston's starter, gave up both Aaron homers and was touched for another run in the fourth when Mack Jones doubled, took third on an error and scored on a force-play grounder. A walk, Rico Carty's double and Mike de la Hoz' infield hit gave the Braves an insurance run in the eighth.

Winner Ken Johnson allowed only four hits before giving way to Ramon Hernandez in the seventh. Ed Mathews singled the Astros' run across in the sixth.

Tim McCarver hit a three-run homer and Julian Javier a two-run shot for the Cardinals, who pinned San Francisco ace Juan Marichal with his third loss in three starts.

Ken Henderson's second bases-empty homer of the night knocked out winner Larry Jaster in the eighth. Jesus Alou and Willie McCovey also homered for the Giants, who have lost six in a row.

Ron Hunt broke up the Dodgers-Reds duel with a run-scoring double in the 10th — his fourth hit in five trips. Gene Michael led off the 10th with a double and Hunt, who had scored the first two Los Angeles runs, delivered the winning hit one out later.

Tommy Harper homered for Cincinnati in the sixth and the Reds tied it in the seventh when Tommy Helms singled, stole second and raced home on John Edwards' single.

Everly Scores 20 Points In Oak Glen's Track Win

Rich Everly scored 20 points by compiling two firsts and a pair of second place finishes in leading Oak Glen's track forces to a 94-82½ victory over Weirton in the Northern Division of the Mountaineer League championship.

Everly finished first in the 100 at 10.3 and took the 440 in 53.5. He placed second in the broad jump and 220-yard dash to round out his night's work.

Follansbee defeated Wellsburg, 41½-24 in another Northern Division meet.

One Oak Glen record was set and another tied during the meet.

The two - mile relay team set a new school mark of 8:40.8. Members of the record breaking quartet included Don Zielinsky, John Zielinsky, Dave Shilling and Gerald Greg.

Dan Crago tied the school's high jump mark by going 5-11.

Other first for Coach Bob Starkey's Golden Bears came in the high hurdles where Leroy Greathouse was clocked in 16.7.

The shuttle hurdle relay team of Greathouse, Earl Jackson, Carnes and Allan Six won in 1:02.6.

John Zielinsky tied for first in the 880-yard run with Glyptis of Weirton. Both runners were clocked in 2:11.

Oak Glen will run in the West Liberty relays Saturday.

Stanton, JU Continue Undefeated In League

Stanton Local and Jefferson Union remained undefeated in the Indian League standings after Wednesday night's action.

Stanton defeated Southern, 123-29 while JU ran up a 103½-29½ victory over Cadiz.

In otherscores, Mingo nipped Springfield, 77-76 while Brilliant scored a 106-47 win over Hopedale.

Stanton won 13 of the 14 events with Southern's Bob Hill gaining the only first place for his team. Hill won the shot put in 39 feet, 5¾ inches.

Stanton's two relay teams, one mile and shuttle hurdle quartet turned in the best times of the night. The mile relay team of Patterson, Minor, Maydak and Recik was timed in 3:45 while the shuttle hurdle team of Scarbino, Thomas, Smith and Smolinsky won in 1:00.2.

DeVenzio, the playmaker of Ambridge's PIAA Class A champions, is one of the smallest men on the squad at 5-foot-10. Durett is 6-foot-6. DeVenzio averaged 20 points a game.

Beaver Local Loses 1-0 At Springfield

Beaver Local's Mike Piatt allowed only one run but lost a tough 1-0 decision at Springfield Local of Mahoning County Wednesday.

Springfield scored its lone run in the second inning on two singles and a scarifice.

Gilliam, Springfield's centerfielder, who scored the only run of the game also made a circus catch in the fourth inning of a hard line drive off the bat of Joel Petkovich. Beaver Local had two runners on base at the time, when Gilliam made the game saving catch.

Piatt gave up three hits and fanned six while Shilling, the winning pitcher allowed three hits.

Relay Team, Ryun Eye Marks In Kansas Event

LAWRENCE, Kan. (AP) — Texas Southern's world record-equaling 440 team and Jim Ryun of Kansas, the world's premier miler, will lead an unprecedented assault on the meet records at the 42nd Kansas Relays Friday and Saturday.

The meet opens today with the 10,000-meter run and six freshman-junior college events. Finals will be held in seven events Friday, trials in many others, with 19 finals Saturday, including Ryun's Glenn Cunningham Mile. A total of 1,113 athletes from 116 schools or teams are entered.

Texas Southern's outstanding sprinters, led by Jim Hines, tied the world record of 39.6 seconds in the 440 relay last weekend.

In the 880 relay, Texas Southern's 1:22.8 at the Prairie View Relays was just off the world record of 1:22.6.

Prairie View won the Texas Relays mile relay in 3:07.8, and Texas Southern ran a 7:31.6 two-mile and 3:17.8 sprint medley at the Texas games, compared to the meet records here of 3:09.2, 7:32 and 3:19.8, respectively.

Rice, a triple winner here last year in the baton events, is ready to push Oklahoma in the 440 and hopes to dip under the meet records in the 880 and mile relays.

Texas has a good shot at the sprint medley mark of 3:19.8.

Kansas and Ryun set a world record of 3:15.2 in the sprint medley at Texas, but there is little chance Ryun will approach his world mark of 3:51.3. He plans an even pace.

Local Members Show Rabbits

Several members of the Tri-State Rabbit Breeders Association showed rabbits at the state convention held last weekend in Akron.

Alex Zomonski had a fine display of New Zealand Reds while Floyd and Mildred Beatty and Miss Vivian Jones, breeders in silvermartin polish dutch and Californian, attended the show.

Avery Keck and Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Brucker showed displays of Dutch, New Zealands Red, White and Checkered Giants.

Miss Jones was a delegate to the state convention.

Braves Gain 5th In Row On Aaron's 2 Homers

If Hank Aaron has a hard time breaking the old home run habit, he'll have no trouble keeping his new friends.

The Atlanta slugger, who led the National League with 44 home runs last year but dipped to a .279 batting mark — lowest in his career — blasted a pair of homers Wednesday night, powering the torrid Braves to a 4-1 victory over Houston.

"I'm going back to my old style of hitting, to get a better batting average," the .316 lifetime hitter said before signing a two-year contract last winter at $100,000 per-season. "I wasn't too concerned about batting for an average last year because I had made up my mind to lead the league in homers."

"Theres no better way of making friends when you move into new territory than hitting the ball over the fence," Aaron added, explaining he went for the long ball in 1966 to help boost fan interest during the Braves' first year at Atlanta.

Aaron didn't disappoint the Atlanta backers Wednesday night. He slammed a 405-foot, bases-empty drive over the center field fence in the first inning and hammered a 420-foot solo shot into the left field seats in the fourth.

The 33-year-old outfielder's first two 1967 homers lifted his career total to 444, No. 10 on the all-time list, while sending his early-season batting average up to .321.

The homers also provided the winning margin as the Braves rolled to their fifth straight victory after an opening string of three losses.

St. Louis' streaking Cardinals overpowered San Francisco 7-5 for their sixth victory in six starts and the Los Angeles Dodgers edged Cincinnati 3-2 on Ron Hunt's run-scoring double in the 10th. The Pittsburgh-Philadelphia game was rained out.

Dave Giusti, Houston's starter, gave up both Aaron homers and was touched for another run in the fourth when Mack Jones doubled, took third on an error and scored on a force-play grounder. A walk, Rico Carty's double and Mike de la Hoz' infield hit gave the Braves an insurance run in the eighth.

Winner Ken Johnson allowed only four hits before giving way to Ramon Hernandez in the seventh. Ed Mathews singled the Astros' run across in the sixth.

Tim McCarver hit a three-run homer and Julian Javier a two-run shot for the Cardinals, who pinned San Francisco ace Juan Marichal with his third loss in three starts.

Ken Henderson's second bases-empty homer of the night knocked out winner Larry Jaster in the eighth. Jesus Alou and Willie McCovey also homered for the Giants, who have lost six in a row.

Ron Hunt broke up the Dodgers-Reds duel with a run-scoring double in the 10th — his fourth hit in five trips. Gene Michael led off the 10th with a double and Hunt, who had scored the first two Los Angeles runs, delivered the winning hit one out later.

Tommy Harper homered for Cincinnati in the sixth and the Reds tied it in the seventh when Tommy Helms singled, stole second and raced home on John Edwards' single.

Stanton, JU Continue Undefeated In League

Stanton Local and Jefferson Union remained undefeated in the Indian League standings after Wednesday night's action.

Stanton defeated Southern, 123-29 while JU ran up a 103½-29½ victory over Cadiz.

In otherscores, Mingo nipped Springfield, 77-76 while Brilliant scored a 106-47 win over Hopedale.

Stanton won 13 of the 14 events with Southern's Bob Hill gaining the only first place for his team. Hill won the shot put in 39 feet, 5¾ inches.

Stanton's two relay teams, one mile and shuttle hurdle quartet turned in the best times of the night. The mile relay team of Patterson, Minor, Maydak and Recik was timed in 3:45 while the shuttle hurdle team of Scarbino, Thomas, Smith and Smolinsky won in 1:00.2.

CAMDEN, N. J. (AP)—Dick DeVenzio of Ambridge, Pa., and Ken Durrett of Pittsburgh are among 40 named to the 1966-67 All-American High School Basketball squad by Scholastic Magazine.

Beaver Local Loses 1-0 At Springfield

Beaver Local's Mike Piatt allowed only one run but lost a tough 1-0 decision at Springfield Local of Mahoning County Wednesday.

Springfield scored its lone run in the second inning on two singles and a scarifice.

Gilliam, Springfield's centerfielder, who scored the only run of the game also made a circus catch in the fourth inning of a hard line drive off the bat of Joel Petkovich. Beaver Local had two runners on base at the time, when Gilliam made the game saving catch.

Piatt gave up three hits and fanned six while Shilling, the winning pitcher allowed three hits.

Frisco Attempts To Even Playoff

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Having demolished the specter of a shutout, the San Francisco Warriors tonight battle to square accounts with the Philadelphia 76ers in their final National Basketball Association playoff series.

"It was a personal thing for us to fight back," declared 6-foot, 11-inch Nate Thurmond.

"Boston took only one game from the 76ers and as a matter of pride we want to do better than the Celtics, perhaps even win the championship, which is possible now."

Thurmond proved the strong tower in the Warriors' 130-124 triumph over the 76ers at the Cow Palace Tuesday night after the Eastern champs had won the first two games in Philadelphia.

Warrior shooting came to life and Coach Bill Sharman hopes his club maintains its collective shooting eye before the capacity throng at the Cow Palace tonight.

Coach Alex Hannum of Philadelphia, on the other hand, adjusted defenses to avoid repetition of the 55 points by Rick Barry and 28 by Jim King which riddled the 76ers in the third game.

A day before the game, all reserved seats were sold with only a few grandstand ducats remaining to go on sale at noon today. That assured a crowd of 15,000.

Commenting on the victory, Sharman said, "That was the first game in which we shot well. We just weren't hitting in Philadelphia."

The Warriors connected on 45.3 per cent of their shots from the floor while the 76ers hit 43.1 per cent.

Turns In New Record

New Zealander Captures 26-Mile Boston Marathon

BOSTON (AP) — Little Dave McKenzie of New Zealand was hailed as a giant killer and a top Olympic contender today after a record-smashing triumph over the Japanese in the 71st Boston A.A. Marathon.

The 5-foot-4, 120-pound McKenzie crushed Japanese hopes for a third straight BAA triumph, breezing to victory in 2 hours, 15 minutes and 45 seconds Wednesday.

McKenzie helped set a blistering pace for 18 miles and then pulled away as he headed into the first of three hills. Yutaka Aoki tried to make up ground on the third, known as Heartbreak Hill, and actually closed to within 30 yards.

However, McKenzie pulled away for his sixth straight marathon triumph, fourth since Jan. 28 and ninth in 11 over-all starts.

The bid for the lead took so much out of Aoki that Tom Laris, 26-year-old former Ivy League two-mile champion at Dartmouth, overtook him for second place in 2:16.48.

Aoki hung on for third in 2:17.17, while Louis Castagnola, a Washington electronics engineer, finished fourth in 2:17.48, and Italian champion Antonio Ambu took fifth in 2:18.04.

McKenzie, a 24-year-old job printer who has won the New Zealand Championship the last two years, charged through driving sleet and rain to trim 48 seconds from the 26-mile, 385-yard course record set by Morio Shigematsu in leading a 1-2-3-5-6 Japanese finish in 1965. Japan swept the first four places with newcomers last year.

"It was very cold and my calf muscles got very stiff, but I was not overly tired at the finish," McKenzie said. "The hills didn't bother me. I just wanted to stay out in front."

"We didn't expect to be beaten," Aoki said. "We had heard of McKenzie, but we didn't realize how strong he was until we saw him run."

Tooru Terasawa, who helped the Japanese run opposition into the ground as coach before he settled for a third-place finish in 1966, said he and his three running partners this year were bothered by the cold, rain and strong winds, as well as a record-setting early pace.

Asked about 1968 Olympic hopes, McKenzie said the Games are "too far off to think about right now."

Palmer Dallas Favorite, On Way To Biggest Year

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)— Arnold Palmer is on the way to his greatest year in golf, money-wise at least, which explains why no one else was even mentioned when the favorite was established in the $100,000 Greater Dallas Open.

The tournament, with Palmer an entry for the first time in six years, started today over the 6,777-yard Oak Cliff Country Club Course, where Palmer showed he was still winging merrily on when he fired a two-under-par 68 in the pro-amateur Wednesday.

Palmer has played in 10 of the 13 tournaments this year and placed fourth or better in seven of them. He has won two—Los Angeles and Tucson. More important he has won $81,285, of which $73,273 is official money.

Arnie is the all-time money winner with $827,723. This is about $225,000 more than second-place Billy Casper has earned. But no one can recall Palmer winning so much money in such a short time. The tour is a little more than one-third completed.

Palmer has played 38 rounds and 20 of them were under 70. His last two have been 64 and 63.

So the millionaire of the links set out today in a field of 145 seeking the $20,000 first money and expected to get it.

Casper was considered a most serious challenger and Frank Beard, who played some hot golf to beat Palmer in the Tournament of Champions at Las Vegas, was also highly regarded.

It is the finest field Dallas has had, the course is in top shape and hopes are strong that the weather will be just the opposite of last year. Then rains dogged the tournament, causing rounds to be postponed.

It staggered through with Roberto DeVicenzo of Argentina coming from behind on the final day to win it. DeVirenzo is back and competent.

The tournament also could be the scene of the struggle for leading money-winning honors. Gay Brewer, the Masters champion and the only player other than Palmer to win two tournaments this year, is second in the money parade with $66,347. He might replace Palmer should he win first money. Second place pays $12,000.

Par apparently presents no obstacle. In the pro-amateur Wednesday 10 pros bettered par with Rocky Thompson, who fired a 66 and won $500, leading the list.

Home Runs Help Tribe To 4-1 Win

CLEVELAND (AP)— Maybe the Cleveland Indians picked up the cue from owner Vernon Stouffer.

Stouffer stepped into a pitch by Mayor Ralph Locher and lined it to left field in pregame festivities before the home opener at Municipal Stadium Wednesday.

Then the varsity took over and picked up where the boss left off. Max Alvis, Duke Sims and Chuck Hinton smacked home runs while Sonny Siebert and Bob Allen handled the Kansas City Athletics in a 4-1 victory before a chilly crowd of 26,133.

It was Joe Adcock's first appearance in the Stadium as manager and his third straight victory. But he wasn't overjoyed.

"We were lousy in winning," said Adcock. "We didn't make but eight mistakes."

Adcock cited three attempted stolen bases, by his club, two of which were stopped because of pitchouts. The other misfired because the steal wasn't on and the runner left on his own.

"They called those pitchouts because our runners gave away the sign," said Adcock. "Both times they were leaning."

Adcock wasn't worried about the Athletics stealing the signs because "How could they know our signs when we don't know them ourselves?"

Despite the mistakes and Siebert's sore arm, the Indians collected 10 hits off Jim Nash (1-1) and reliever Bob Duliba.

"My forearm tightened up in the second inning," said Siebert (1-0). "I couldn't feel anything. I couldn't feel the ball in my hand. I didn't know when to release it."

Siebert allowed only six hits in seven innings, though.

"I just had one thing going for me," he said. "He's right over there." Siebert was pointing to Allen.

"My control wasn't quite as sharp as I'd like it to be but I pretty much was putting my slider where I wanted it," said Allen, who has a 0.00 earned run average after three performances.

Allen opened the eighth with a walk, but struck out three straight and one more in the ninth.

Alvis drove one over the left center field fence in the first and Sims parked another in the right field seats the following inning. Chuck Hinton's sacrifice fly after two singles in the fifth produced one more run and Hinton unloaded with a homer in the eighth.

Ken Saurez tagged Siebert for a home run in the seventh to spoil the shutout after the right-hander had retired 11 in a row.

Steve Hargan will try to make it four straight tonight, with Lew Krausse going for the A's.

Canadiens Rate Favorite To Win Third Cup Title

MONTREAL (AP) — Montreal's Canadiens, unbeaten in their last 15 games, begin tonight the final leg of their quest for a third straight Stanley Cup championship.

The Canadiens, runners-up during the regular National Hockey League season, are favored to win the best-of-7 final series from the Toronto Maple Leafs, third in regular season play.

Montreal, unbeaten in their last 11 regular season games, swept the New York Rangers 4-0 in the Cup semifinals, while the Leafs were upsetting the league champion Chicago Black Hawks four games to two.

Noting that the team was plagued by injuries throughout the season, Montreal star center Jean Beliveau, appearing in Cup competition for the 14th straight time, said that the Canadiens are "just as good now as in any other year, and the club is in the best shape it has been all season."

With the exception of rookie goalie Rogatien Vachon, Montreal goes into the final series with the same line-up that won the cup last year.

However, the Leafs are not in top shape physically.

Oldest To Finish Run

BOSTON (AP) — Dr. Lawrence M. Hilt, a 67-year-old doctor from Eugene, Ore., became Wednesday the oldest runner ever to officially complete the Boston Marathon. He finished the 26-mile, 385-yard race in five hours, 46 minutes.

Hits U.S. Viet Policy

ATHENS, Ohio (AP)— There are "no legal or moral grounds for American policy in Vietnam," says Gus Hall, general secretary of the American Communist Party.

Hall, here Wednesday to speak at Ohio University's Bush Hall, a men's dormitory, urged students attending a news conference to resist the war in Vietnam "in a mass way."

North, South Women's Golf Down To Four

PINEHURST, N.C. (AP) — Two first-timers and two familiar faces made up today's Women's Amateur North and South Golf Tournament semifinal cast.

Connie Day, 24-year-old secretary from Cleveland, Tenn., and 40-year-old Mrs. Helen Dye of Indianapolis, mother of two boys, were paired in the opening day match, the first time either has advanced this far in the 65-year-old tournament.

The other match sent Barbara McIntire, 32, of Colorado Springs, Colo., who won here four times from 1957 through 1965, against Phyllis (Tish) Preuss, 28, of Pompano Beach, Fla., 1964 winner and runner-up twice.

Miss Day and Mrs. Dye fashioned the top upsets in Wednesday's double round schedule.

The Tennessee girl eliminated two former champions. Her first victim, by a 3 and 2 score, was Mrs. Marlene Stewart Streit of Willowdale, Ont., Canada, the medalist. Then Connie birdied the last hole for a 1-up victory over Mrs. Phillip Cudone of Myrtle Beach, S.C.

Both Miss Day and Mrs. Dye have been U.S. Curtis Cup team alternate selections.

Mrs. Dye, seven-time winner of the Indiana state title, followed a 2-up victory over Mrs. Gwen Straub of Lake Park, Fla., with a 20-hole upset of defending champion Mrs. Nancy Roth Syms of Hollywood, Fla.

Miss McIntire pulled out a 1-up struggle with Lida Fee Matthews of Portsmouth, Ohio, by knocking a 65-foot birdie putt on the 18th hole Wednesday.

She then had an easier time in a 5 and 4 victory over Mrs. Barbara Fitton of Hamilton, Ohio. Mrs. Fitton had pulled a surprise of her own earlier, beating Curtis Cup player Helen Wilson of Gladwyne, Pa., 2 and 1.

Miss Preuss eliminated Mrs. H.S. Semple of Sewickley, Pa., a 1966 semifinalist, 5 and 4. Then she turned back Dorsey Johnson of Michigan City, Ind., 4 and 3.

Frisco Attempts To Even Playoff

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Having demolished the specter of a shutout, the San Francisco Warriors tonight battle to square accounts with the Philadelphia 76ers in their final National Basketball Association playoff series.

"It was a personal thing for us to fight back," declared 6-foot, 11-inch Nate Thurmond.

"Boston took only one game from the 76ers and as a matter of pride we want to do better than the Celtics, perhaps even win the championship, which is possible now."

Thurmond proved the strong tower in the Warriors' 130-124 triumph over the 76ers at the Cow Palace Tuesday night after the Eastern champs had won the first two games in Philadelphia.

Warrior shooting came to life and Coach Bill Sharman hopes his club maintains its collective shooting eye before the capacity throng at the Cow Palace tonight.

Coach Alex Hannum of Philadelphia, on the other hand, adjusted defenses to avoid repetition of the 55 points by Rick Barry and 28 by Jim King which riddled the 76ers in the third game.

A day before the game, all reserved seats were sold with only a few grandstand ducats remaining to go on sale at noon today. That assured a crowd of 15,000.

Commenting on the victory, Sharman said, "That was the first game in which we shot well. We just weren't hitting in Philadelphia."

The Warriors connected on 45.3 per cent of their shots from the floor while the 76ers hit 43.1 per cent.

Turns In New Record

New Zealander Captures 26-Mile Boston Marathon

BOSTON (AP) — Little Dave McKenzie of New Zealand was hailed as a giant killer and a top Olympic contender today after a record-smashing triumph over the Japanese in the 71st Boston A.A. Marathon.

The 5-foot-4, 120-pound McKenzie crushed Japanese hopes for a third straight BAA triumph, breezing to victory in 2 hours, 15 minutes and 45 seconds Wednesday.

McKenzie helped set a blistering pace for 18 miles and then pulled away as he headed into the first of three hills. Yutaka Aoki tried to make up ground on the third, known as Heartbreak Hill, and actually closed to within 30 yards.

However, McKenzie pulled away for his sixth straight marathon triumph, fourth since Jan. 28 and ninth in 11 over-all starts.

The bid for the lead took so much out of Aoki that Tom Laris, 26-year-old former Ivy League two-mile champion at Dartmouth, overtook him for second place in 2:16.48.

Aoki hung on for third in 2:17.17, while Louis Castagnola, a Washington electronics engineer, finished fourth in 2:17.48, and Italian champion Antonio Ambu took fifth in 2:18.04.

McKenzie, a 24-year-old job printer who has won the New Zealand Championship the last two years, charged through driving sleet and rain to trim 48 seconds from the 26-mile, 385-yard course record set by Morio Shigematsu in leading a 1-2-3-5-6 Japanese finish in 1965. Japan swept the first four places with newcomers last year.

"It was very cold and my calf muscles got very stiff, but I was not overly tired at the finish," McKenzie said. "The hills didn't bother me. I just wanted to stay out in front."

"We didn't expect to be beaten," Aoki said. "We had heard of McKenzie, but we didn't realize how strong he was until we saw him run."

Tooru Terasawa, who helped the Japanese run opposition into the ground as coach before he settled for a third-place finish in 1966, said he and his three running partners this year were bothered by the cold, rain and strong winds, as well as a record-setting early pace.

Asked about 1968 Olympic hopes, McKenzie said the Games are "too far off to think about right now."

Palmer Dallas Favorite, On Way To Biggest Year

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)— Arnold Palmer is on the way to his greatest year in golf, money-wise at least, which explains why no one else was even mentioned when the favorite was established in the $100,000 Greater Dallas Open.

The tournament, with Palmer an entry for the first time in six years, started today over the 6,777-yard Oak Cliff Country Club Course, where Palmer showed he was still winging merrily on when he fired a two-under-par 68 in the pro-amateur Wednesday.

Palmer has played in 10 of the 13 tournaments this year and placed fourth or better in seven of them. He has won two—Los Angeles and Tucson. More important he has won $81,285, of which $73,273 is official money.

Arnie is the all-time money winner with $827,723. This is about $225,000 more than second-place Billy Casper has earned. But no one can recall Palmer winning so much money in such a short time. The tour is a little more than one-third completed.

Palmer has played 38 rounds and 20 of them were under 70. His last two have been 64 and 63.

So the millionaire of the links set out today in a field of 145 seeking the $20,000 first money and expected to get it.

Casper was considered a most serious challenger and Frank Beard, who played some hot golf to beat Palmer in the Tournament of Champions at Las Vegas, was also highly regarded.

It is the finest field Dallas has had, the course is in top shape and hopes are strong that the weather will be just the opposite of last year. Then rains dogged the tournament, causing rounds to be postponed.

It staggered through with Roberto DeVicenzo of Argentina coming from behind on the final day to win it. DeVirenzo is back and competent.

The tournament also could be the scene of the struggle for leading money-winning honors. Gay Brewer, the Masters champion and the only player other than Palmer to win two tournaments this year, is second in the money parade with $66,347. He might replace Palmer should he win first money. Second place pays $12,000.

Par apparently presents no obstacle. In the pro-amateur Wednesday 10 pros bettered par with Rocky Thompson, who fired a 66 and won $500, leading the list.

Home Runs Help Tribe To 4-1 Win

CLEVELAND (AP)— Maybe the Cleveland Indians picked up the cue from owner Vernon Stouffer.

Stouffer stepped into a pitch by Mayor Ralph Locher and lined it to left field in pregame festivities before the home opener at Municipal Stadium Wednesday.

Then the varsity took over and picked up where the boss left off. Max Alvis, Duke Sims and Chuck Hinton smacked home runs while Sonny Siebert and Bob Allen handled the Kansas City Athletics in a 4-1 victory before a chilly crowd of 26,133.

It was Joe Adcock's first appearance in the Stadium as manager and his third straight victory. But he wasn't overjoyed.

"We were lousy in winning," said Adcock. "We didn't make but eight mistakes."

Adcock cited three attempted stolen bases, by his club, two of which were stopped because of pitchouts. The other misfired because the steal wasn't on and the runner left on his own.

"They called those pitchouts because our runners gave away the sign," said Adcock. "Both times they were leaning."

Adcock wasn't worried about the Athletics stealing the signs because "How could they know our signs when we don't know them ourselves?"

Despite the mistakes and Siebert's sore arm, the Indians collected 10 hits off Jim Nash (1-1) and reliever Bob Duliba.

"My forearm tightened up in the second inning," said Siebert (1-0). "I couldn't feel anything. I couldn't feel the ball in my hand. I didn't know when to release it."

Siebert allowed only six hits in seven innings, though.

"I just had one thing going for me," he said. "He's right over there." Siebert was pointing to Allen.

"My control wasn't quite as sharp as I'd like it to be but I pretty much was putting my slider where I wanted it," said Allen, who has a 0.00 earned run average after three performances.

Allen opened the eighth with a walk, but struck out three straight and one more in the ninth.

Alvis drove one over the left center field fence in the first and Sims parked another in the right field seats the following inning. Chuck Hinton's sacrifice fly after two singles in the fifth produced one more run and Hinton unloaded with a homer in the eighth.

Ken Saurez tagged Siebert for a home run in the seventh to spoil the shutout after the right-hander had retired 11 in a row.

Steve Hargan will try to make it four straight tonight, with Lew Krausse going for the A's.

Canadiens Rate Favorite To Win Third Cup Title

MONTREAL (AP) — Montreal's Canadiens, unbeaten in their last 15 games, begin tonight the final leg of their quest for a third straight Stanley Cup championship.

The Canadiens, runners-up during the regular National Hockey League season, are favored to win the best-of-7 final series from the Toronto Maple Leafs, third in regular season play.

Montreal, unbeaten in their last 11 regular season games, swept the New York Rangers 4-0 in the Cup semifinals, while the Leafs were upsetting the league champion Chicago Black Hawks four games to two.

Noting that the team was plagued by injuries throughout the season, Montreal star center Jean Beliveau, appearing in Cup competition for the 14th straight time, said that the Canadiens are "just as good now as in any other year, and the club is in the best shape it has been all season."

With the exception of rookie goalie Rogatien Vachon, Montreal goes into the final series with the same line-up that won the cup last year.

However, the Leafs are not in top shape physically.

Hits U.S. Viet Policy

ATHENS, Ohio (AP)— There are "no legal or moral grounds for American policy in Vietnam," says Gus Hall, general secretary of the American Communist Party.

Hall, here Wednesday to speak at Ohio University's Bush Hall, a men's dormitory, urged students attending a news conference to resist the war in Vietnam "in a mass way."

North, South Women's Golf Down To Four

PINEHURST, N.C. (AP) — Two first-timers and two familiar faces made up today's Women's Amateur North and South Golf Tournament semifinal cast.

Connie Day, 24-year-old secretary from Cleveland, Tenn., and 40-year-old Mrs. Helen Dye of Indianapolis, mother of two boys, were paired in the opening day match, the first time either has advanced this far in the 65-year-old tournament.

The other match sent Barbara McIntire, 32, of Colorado Springs, Colo., who won here four times from 1957 through 1965, against Phyllis (Tish) Preuss, 28, of Pompano Beach, Fla., 1964 winner and runner-up twice.

Miss Day and Mrs. Dye fashioned the top upsets in Wednesday's double round schedule.

The Tennessee girl eliminated two former champions. Her first victim, by a 3 and 2 score, was Mrs. Marlene Stewart Streit of Willowdale, Ont., Canada, the medalist. Then Connie birdied the last hole for a 1-up victory over Mrs. Phillip Cudone of Myrtle Beach, S.C.

Both Miss Day and Mrs. Dye have been U.S. Curtis Cup team alternate selections.

Mrs. Dye, seven-time winner of the Indiana state title, followed a 2-up victory over Mrs. Gwen Straub of Lake Park, Fla., with a 20-hole upset of defending champion Mrs. Nancy Roth Syms of Hollywood, Fla.

Miss McIntire pulled out a 1-up struggle with Lida Fee Matthews of Portsmouth, Ohio, by knocking a 65-foot birdie putt on the 18th hole Wednesday.

She then had an easier time in a 5 and 4 victory over Mrs. Barbara Fitton of Hamilton, Ohio. Mrs. Fitton had pulled a surprise of her own earlier, beating Curtis Cup player Helen Wilson of Gladwyne, Pa., 2 and 1.

Miss Preuss eliminated Mrs. H.S. Semple of Sewickley, Pa., a 1966 semifinalist, 5 and 4. Then she turned back Dorsey Johnson of Michigan City, Ind., 4 and 3.

ORDINANCE NUMBER 6, 1967

AN ORDINANCE AMENDING SECTION 92 of the CODE OF THE CITY OF EAST LIVERPOOL PROVIDING FOR VACATIONS FOR EMPLOYEES OF THE CITY AND ADDING SECTION 92-1 PROVIDING AND CLARIFYING VACATIONS FOR MEMBERS OF THE FIRE AND POLICE DEPARTMENTS.

WHEREAS, Council is of the opinion that additional vacations should be given regular employees, firemen and policemen and clarification and adjustments should be made in present Section 268-2 providing for firemen's vacations and Section 556 providing for policemen's vacations and the two sections combined into one section which will be designated as Section 92-1 of the Code of the City of East Liverpool,

NOW, THEREFORE,

BE IT ORDAINED BY THE COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF EAST LIVERPOOL, STATE OF OHIO:

SECTION 1. That Section 92 of the Code of the City of East Liverpool be amended and new Section 92-1 be added, which amended section and new section are hereby ordained to read as follows:

Section 92 Vacations of Employees - Schedule; Exemptions.

All employees who are employed after the beginning of each calendar year and who are continuously employed by the City until the end of that calendar year shall be allowed vacation. For each full month employed said employee shall receive one-half day, said vacation to be allowed during the next calendar year. For employees on a monthly salary, the vacation payment shall equal one forty-eighth (1/48th) of the monthly salary for each half day allowed. For employees paid on the hourly basis the vacation payment shall equal one - half (½) days work at regular daily wage.

For each of the next four consecutive continuous years of employment following the first fractional calendar year, all employees in every department in the city shall be allowed a vacation during the following calendar year for the period of two weeks with pay. Said pay for an employee who is paid on a monthly or yearly salary basis shall be one-half of his regular monthly salary; and the pay for an employee on an hourly basis shall be equal to thirteen days work at his regular daily wage.

For each of the next ten years of continuous employment after four years of continuous employment following the first fractional calendar year, all employees in every department shall be allowed a vacation during the following calendar year for a period of three weeks with pay. Said pay for an employee who is paid on a monthly salary basis shall be three-fourths (¾ths) of his regular monthly salary; and the pay for an employee is paid on an hourly basis shall be equal to nineteen and one half (19½) days work at regular wage.

For each years of continuous employment after fourteen years of continuous employment following the first fractional calendar year, all employees in every department shall be allowed a vacation during the following calendar year for the period of four weeks with pay. Said pay for an employee who is paid on a monthly salary basis shall be his regular monthly salary; and the pay for an employee who is paid on an hourly basis shall be equal to twenty-six (26) days work at regular wage.

In the event that an employee terminates his employment with the city or his employment is terminated by his death, as part of his final pay he shall be entitled to receive vacation pay earned during the preceding calendar year and not previously received during the calendar year of termination; and in addition shall receive for each completed month of employment in the calendar year of termination one twelfth (1-12) of the vacation to which he would have been entitled had he worked the entire year of termination. However, the vacation allowance for the year of termination shall not be used in computing the months of completed service in that year.

Any employee who is discharged shall not be entitled to a vacation allowance for the calendar year in which he is discharged but shall receive vacation pay for the preceding calendar year not previously taken.

The employees who are entitled to a paid vacation must take all of their vacation during the calendar year following the year in which the vacation is earned or forfeit the same.

All vacations shall be permitted under such rules and regulations as may be adopted and prescribed by the Director of Public Service-Safety.

SECTION 2. That present sections 92. 268-2 and 556 be and the same are hereby repealed.

SECTION 3. That this ordinance is hereby declared to be an emergency measure and shall take effect immediately upon passage and approval. Said emergency lies in the fact that the vacation periods for the year must be scheduled immediately in order to allow said vacations to be spread out over a longer period of the spring and summer months and thus prevent confusion in the various departments of the City due to shortage of men and this action is therefore necessary to immediate preservation of the public peace, health and safety.

Passed this 14th day of April, 1967.

ORDINANCE NUMBER 6, 1967

AN ORDINANCE AMENDING SECTION 92 of the CODE OF THE CITY OF EAST LIVERPOOL PROVIDING FOR VACATIONS FOR EMPLOYEES OF THE CITY AND ADDING SECTION 92-1 PROVIDING AND CLARIFYING VACATIONS FOR MEMBERS OF THE FIRE AND POLICE DEPARTMENTS.

WHEREAS, Council is of the opinion that additional vacations should be given regular employees, firemen and policemen and clarification and adjustments should be made in present Section 268-2 providing for firemen's vacations and Section 556 providing for policemen's vacations and the two sections combined into one section which will be designated as Section 92-1 of the Code of the City of East Liverpool,

NOW, THEREFORE,

BE IT ORDAINED BY THE COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF EAST LIVERPOOL, STATE OF OHIO:

SECTION 1. That Section 92 of the Code of the City of East Liverpool be amended and new Section 92-1 be added, which amended section and new section are hereby ordained to read as follows:

Section 92. Vacations of Employees - Schedule; Exemptions.

All employees who are employed after the beginning of each calendar year and who are continuously employed by the City until the end of that calendar year shall be allowed vacation. For each full month employed said employee shall receive one-half day, said vacation to be allowed during the next calendar year. For employees on a monthly salary, the vacation payment shall equal one forty-eighth (1/48th) of the monthly salary for each half day allowed. For employees paid on the hourly basis the vacation payment shall equal one - half ($\frac{1}{2}$) days work at regular daily wage.

For each of the next four consecutive continuous years of employment following the first fractional calendar year, all employees in every department in the city shall be allowed a vacation during the following calendar year for the period of two weeks with pay. Said pay for an employee who is paid on a monthly or yearly salary basis shall be one-half of his regular monthly salary; and the pay for an employee on an hourly basis shall be equal to thirteen days work at his regular daily wage.

For each of the next ten years of continuous employment after four years of continuous employment following the first fractional calendar year, all employees in every department shall be allowed a vacation during the following calendar year for a period of three weeks with pay. Said pay for an employee who is paid on a monthly salary basis shall be three-fourths ($\frac{3}{4}$ths) of his regular monthly salary; and the pay for an employee is paid on an hourly basis shall be equal to nineteen and one half ($19\frac{1}{2}$) days work at regular wage.

For each years of continuous employment after fourteen years of continuous employment following the first fractional calendar year, all employees in every department shall be allowed a vacation during the following calendar year for the period of four weeks with pay. Said pay for an employee who is paid on a monthly salary basis shall be his regular monthly salary; and the pay for an employee who is paid on an hourly basis shall be equal to twenty-six (26) days work at regular wage.

In the event that an employee terminates his employment with the city or his employment is terminated by his death, as part of his final pay he shall be entitled to receive vacation pay earned during the preceding calendar year and not previously received during the calendar year of termination; and in addition shall receive for each completed month of employment in the calendar year of termination one twelfth (1-12) of the vacation to which he would have been entitled had he worked the entire year of termination. However, the vacation allowance for the year of termination shall not be used in computing the months of completed service in that year.

Any employee who is discharged shall not be entitled to a vacation allowance for the calendar year in which he is discharged but shall receive vacation pay for the preceding calendar year not previously taken.

The employees who are entitled to a paid vacation must take all of their vacation during the calendar year following the year in which the vacation is earned or forfeit the same.

All vacations shall be permitted under such rules and regulations as may be adopted and prescribed by the Director of Public Service-Safety.

SECTION 2. That present sections 92, 268-2 and 556 be and the same are hereby repealed.

SECTION 3. That this ordinance is hereby declared to be an emergency measure and shall take effect immediately upon passage and approval. Said emergency lies in the fact that the vacation periods for the year must be scheduled immediately in order to allow said vacations to be spread out over a longer period of the spring and summer months and thus prevent confusion in the various departments of the City due to shortage of men and this action is therefore necessary to immediate preservation of the public peace, health and safety.

Passed this 14th day of April, 1967.

A Junior Editors Quiz About CONGRESS

QUESTION: Why do we need both a Congres and a president?

★ ★ ★

ANSWER: After a successful Revolution, the new United States of America found itself in need of a definite, clear-cut plan of government. In the summer of 1787, our founding fathers worked out a Constitution which, it was decided, would be the supreme law of the land. Under this, the rights of the states were protected, but a strong federal or central government was also established. From their experience, the framers of the Constitution were afraid of giving all the federal power to one individual or department. They divided the powers between three equal and independent governmental branches. One of these, the executive department, was to be in charge of federal money and was to make all the laws. Still another branch was the Supreme Court, which was empowered, after 1803, to pass on any law which might be questioned, to be sure it agreed with the Constitution.

Today In History

By The Associated Press

Today is Thursday, April 20, the 110th day of 1967. There are 255 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1903, philanthropist Andrew Carnegie gave $1.5 million to finance the building of the "Temple of Peace" at the Hague in Holland.

On this date:

In 1775, the seige of Boston during the revolution began.

In 1941, President Franklin D. Roosevelt and Canadian Prime Minister Mackenzie King issued what was called the Hyde Park declaration on hemispheric defense and economic cooperation.

In 1942, the Japanese were bombarding Corregidor.

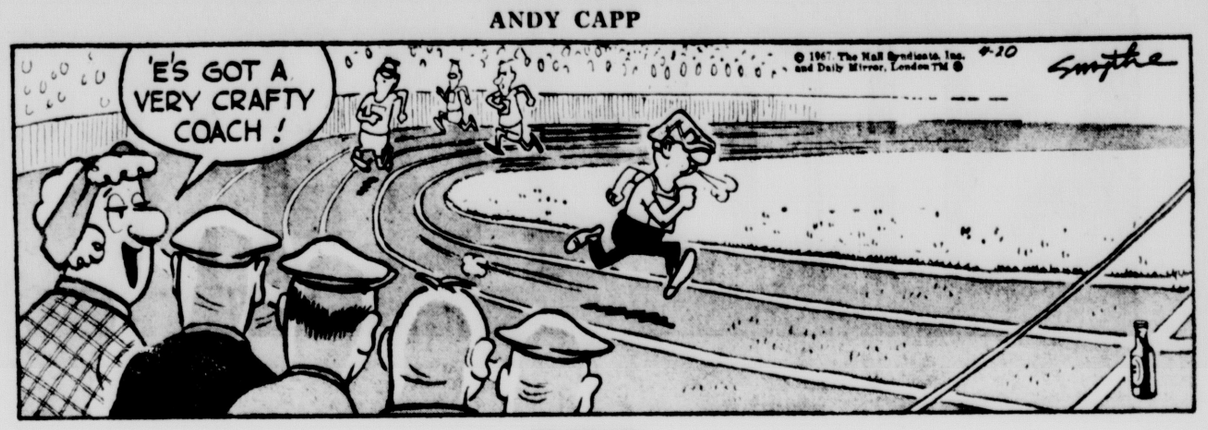

In 1943, President Roosevelt met with President Manuel Avila Camacho of Mexico.

Ten years ago — American tourist Jack Nash was blown out of an Air France Super Constellation and killed. A window in the pressurized cabin of the airliner had shattered 18,000-feet above northern Iraq.

Five years ago — The Soviet Union and Communist China signed a trade pact in Peking.

One year ago—Defense Secretary Robert McNamara denied reports that a bomb shortage was curtailing American combat operations in Vietnam.

SPECIAL!

ANCHOR HOCKING GLASSWARE

New Glowing Sunlit Colors

Anchor Hocking presents beverage glasses and big ice-lip pitchers in two textures and two fresh-as-spring colors . . . avacado, and honey gold . . . to add flair to your daily living and entertaining. Choose either the handcrafted Italian style "Lido" that sparkle like jewels or the rhythmic design of "Soreno" with the high fashion of Spanish glassware. Pick from our four sizes or take home a set of all sizes . . . and the matching pitcher.
